

GSA Move Threatens State Hospital Building Project

By STEVE CULLINANE.
The new addition to Warren State Hospital is threatened by a recent General State Authority move.
Robert L. Kunzig, GSA executive director, said Thursday all GSA-financed projects will be reviewed to see which can be halted. His announcement came shortly after Governor Shafer's budget was blocked in the State Legislature.
"While we sincerely hope that this action will not be necessary," said Kunzig, "Governor Shafer has put the GSA and all other departments of state government on notice that should drastic budget cuts result from the present tax impasse, the sorely needed buildings to house our college and university programs, our mental health and mental retardation services, and the numerous other responsibilities of the state may have to be curtailed."

Democrats protested the Kunzig move, saying it was politically motivated.
The General State Authority representative at the state hospital project yesterday refused to comment on what the Kunzig announcement might mean locally. In fact, he refused to give his name. Another source identified the local GSA man as Rudolph Nelson.

The addition at the State Hospital is the new Geriatrics Unit, which ultimately will cost $9 million. Construction is behind schedule, due to strikes and construction which Governor Raymond Shafer termed faulty after a visit to the site earlier this year.

Kunzig said specifically that the review would include projects already under construction, as well as those in the design stage and those not yet funded.
He said GSA contracts with construction firms permit the authority to terminate projects "at any time and for any reason."
"We have sufficient funds on hand to continue our design and construction program only through December 1967," he said.

Partly cloudy with 50 per cent chance of showers or thunder-showers today or this evening.

Top Of The Morning

WEATHER

Partly cloudy and warm with scattered showers and thunder-showers today and tonight ending Sunday morning. Turning cooler on Sunday with a high of 74. High for today is 80 with an overnight low of 58 degrees. Winds are southwesterly 10 to 15 miles per hour. The probability of rain is 50 per cent today and 30 per cent for tomorrow.

WARREN COUNTY

The Fourth of July weekend started in Warren County yesterday and one word could sum it up: work. That's what everyone connected with the celebration was doing as they prepared for the year's biggest event. The first item on the list is the water ski show, set for Sunday at 2 p.m. on the Allegheny River. Stories on Page A2, A3, A5, and B1. Calendar on Page A5.

Pennsylvania Gas Company's parent company, National Fuels, has applied for government approval for a $30.6 million program to support its current budget and for plant additions. Page One.

The General State Authority is planning major cutbacks in programs either already underway or scheduled. What this means to the $9 million geriatrics unit at Warren State Hospital is unknown. The local GSA representatives refused to comment. Page One.

THE NATION

The national budget deficit probably will hit about $11 billion when it is figured up in about three weeks. This makes it the second largest deficit since World War II. Vietnam war costs are blamed. The indication is more inflation. Page One.

The Federal Trade Commission has asked for tougher codes for cigarette advertising. It would make tobacco companies say on cigarette packages that smoking is dangerous to the health and causes cancer. It would require health warnings to be used on all types of advertising. Page A5.

Far East Airplane Crash Kills 16 American Tourists

By FORREST EDWARDS
HONG KONG (AP) — A Thai jetliner carrying 58 American tourists plunged into Hong Kong harbor yesterday as it tried to land in fog and a rain squall. Of 80 aboard, 21 are known dead, 3 are missing and 56 survived.

Sixteen Americans were unaccounted for.
The torn wreckage of the jet, with 14 bodies trapped inside, was lifted from the bottom of the harbor today. The tail of the twin-jet Caravelle was torn off—providing a gaping escape hatch for the survivors.

Thai International Airways said 58 Americans were among the 73 passengers aboard the Caravelle, which carried a crew of seven. Queen Elizabeth Hospital issued a list of the 56 known survivors and it included only 42 Americans.

Among the Americans were 34 from Sacramento, Calif., many of them teachers at Sacramento State College. They boarded the plane in Taipei, Formosa, along with seven other Americans. The Californians were bound for Hong Kong on a summer travel study trip to Asia.

Dr. H. J. McCormick, an official of the college, said in Sacramento he had been informed 7 of the 34 were missing. The information came from Dr. Charles Hume, a faculty member and leader of the study tour, who cabled him: "Tragedy struck State College travel group. Tentatively seven missing."

An airport official said the plane appeared to be making a good approach to Hong Kong's Kai Tak Airport in fog "when a heavy rain squall suddenly hit. The plane just seemed to drop into the bay." The plane fell

Pennsylvania Gas Figures in Deal

WASHINGTON — The National Fuel Gas Co., which has Pennsylvania Gas Co. of Warren, has asked the government for authority to sell $30.6 million in promissory notes and debentures.

The money would pay for plant additions and would replenish the company's working capital.

The deadline for request of a hearing is July 27. The money, if allowed, would pay outstanding bank notes of $11.9 million and pay for $18 million in long-term notes.

Other subsidiaries of the company are Iroquois Gas of Buffalo and United Natural Gas of Oil City.

short of the runway by about 250 yards.

Two Americans, Dr. Stanley Spector of St. Louis, Mo., and Mrs. Glen Whitlock of Laguna Beach, Calif., told graphic stories of what happened next. Mrs. Whitlock's husband was among the survivors.

"Everything seemed to be normal, a routine landing, and then suddenly there were three very heavy bumps and water began pouring into the cabin," Spector said.

"The bumps were so hard that seats were twisted and jammed, and some passengers could not get life belts out of the seat pockets."

"The plane did not break up. The rear entrance in the tourist section opened immediately—I don't know if it popped open or some member of the crew got it open—and a lot of us aboard were able to get out that way."

Spector carried his wife, who had had a foot operation, to a door, swam with her to a wing tip, then on to an inflatable aircraft life raft. He helped six others onto the raft.

A small Chinese fishing boat came along and took them ashore.

"My husband and I were seated over the wings in the middle of the plane," Mrs. Whitlock

FELLOW STUDENTS ARE KILLED

Air Tragedy Shocks Sacramento

By KEITH HEARN

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Sacramento's academic community was stunned yesterday by the crash of a plane, carrying 34 members of a Sacramento State College study-tour group, in Hong Kong harbor.

There was no immediate word of the fate of the 34 except for a telegram from the tour's conductor, Dr. Charles Hume: "Tragedy struck State College travel group. Tentatively seven missing."

It was known, however, that a number of the Sacramento-area persons survived. Twenty-four of the 80 persons aboard the plane were killed.

Dr. Robert S. Johns, Sacramento State president, appeared briefly from his office and said sadly: "We're diligently trying to find out all the information we can."

The college's summer session switchboard was flooded with incoming telephone calls from anxious friends and relatives trying to get information.

The 34 included several Sacramento-area teachers. Others were ordinary residents on a pleasant summer tour through the Far East.

The group left Sacramento June 19 for the 25-day trip to Honolulu, Japan, Formosa, Hong Kong, Singapore, Malaysia, Thailand and Manila, Sacramento's "sister city."

The stops were designed to show the group the outstanding art, drama, music and cultural centers of the Far East.

It was the second such tour led in recent years by Hume, a speech and drama professor, at Sacramento State, which has about 8,300 students during the normal school year at its campus along the American River.

The tour group was due back in Sacramento July 13.

AFTER STORMY NIGHT ON LAKE ERIE

Pair of Pittsburgh Boaters Found Safe

BARCELONA, N.Y. (AP) — Two Pittsburgh-area men were found safe but hungry yesterday after spending a stormy night on Lake Erie in a rubber raft.

A Coast Guard spokesman in Buffalo said Dennis Drab, 22, of Springdale, Pa., and Leslie Lockerman, 22, of Cheswick, Pa., were in good condition.

He said they were spotted about eight miles northeast of Barcelona, or over 15 miles from North East, Pa., where they launched their two-man raft early Thursday.

A worried neighbor notified the Coast Guard after a storm came up on the lake shortly after the pair left.

The pair was headed back to Erie aboard a Coast Guard cutter.

Drab's father, Henry, was smiling and relieved when he learned his son had been found.

The deficit for the fiscal year 1968, beginning today, is almost bound to be larger — the latest official estimate is $13.5 billion, and this included the assumed passage of the Administration's proposed tax increase by July 1.

With the two years' deficits in the background, President Johnson yesterday signed legislation authorizing an unusually large increase in the ceiling on the national debt.

Compared with the current limit of $336 billion and an actual debt of $327 billion, the new law permits a ceiling of $358 billion in fiscal 1968 and $365 billion thereafter. The President, in Texas, made no comment in signing the measure.

National Budget Shows Inflation; Vietnam Blamed

By EDWIN L. DALE, JR.

(c) N. Y. Times Service

WASHINGTON — The government wound up its fiscal year yesterday, apparently with the second largest deficit in the budget since World War II.

The latest estimate of the deficit is $11 billion, though final figures will not be published for three weeks. The only higher deficit in the past 20 years was in fiscal 1959, when a recession cut receipts and produced added expenditures, resulting in a deficit of $12.4 billion during President Eisenhower's Administration.

Although the deficit is close to that of 1959, it is actually much smaller in relation to the size of the nation's economy, the government's revenues, the total of government and private borrowing, and other measures. All of these have grown tremendously since 1959.

The 1959 deficit amounted to 2.5 per cent of the Gross National Product, while the 1967 deficit was less than 1.5 per cent.

The deficit was sharply higher than in the two previous fiscal years, when it averaged $2.8 billion. It was also well above the original estimate made almost 18 months ago, when the budget for fiscal 1967 estimated a deficit of $1.8 billion.

The chief explanation is that the cost of the war in Vietnam, about $20 billion in fiscal 1967, proved twice as high as originally estimated.

Playgrounds Closing Over Fourth of July

Warren borough playgrounds will be closed until after the Fourth of July with the exception of Crescent Playground which will be open and supervised from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. today for the convenience of picnickers and other persons wishing to use the recreation area.

Taking over as the new director of the summer recreation program is Harold Miller, who replaces Fred Bell the director for the past 12 years. Bell resigned his position to take up a teaching and football coaching post in New Jersey.

Miss Pennsylvania, 1967

... here for Fourth of July celebration

Parade to Feature Miss Pennsylvania

HERSHEY—The new Miss Pennsylvania for 1967, Doris Ann Lausch, 20, of Lancaster, will make a special appearance at the Warren Fourth of July celebration.

Miss Lausch, who will represent the state in the Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City in September, will participate in the Warren Jaycees parade and officiate at ceremonies.

An outdoor girl who loves to hunt, fish, swim, ski, horseback ride and play tennis, Doris Ann prides herself that she comes from four generations of Lancaster County farmers. She lives on a 42-acre farm in Lancaster County where corn, wheat, hay and tobacco are grown.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel H. Lausch, of 630 Delp rd., Lancaster, Doris Ann is five foot seven inches tall and weighs 125 pounds. She hopes to see Suzette Johnson, 19, Miss Warren County, with whom she became well-acquainted while at the Pennsylvania Scholarship Pageant in Hershey last month. A girl who is interested in cooking and baking and who has played the piano for nine years, Doris Ann is a Manheim Twp. High School, Lancaster County, graduate. Having following the commercial course, Doris Ann saved her money to attend college.

A brownette with hazel eyes, Doris Ann has been accepted for September entrance at Elizabethtown College in Lancaster County.

Life Saving Classes Set By Red Cross

Announcement was made yesterday by Red Cross water safety chairman Paul Steinkamp, of this summer's schedule for junior and senior life saving classes.

The classes will begin July 25 and will continue through August 10. The groups will meet from 6 to 9 each Tuesday and Wednesday evening at Green Acres, the residence of G.G. Greene, 1235 Conewango ave. Mr. Greene has generously offered the use of his pool in the interest of area residents who wish to become certified in life saving.

The junior class consists of people aged 12 through 15 and the senior classes begin with those of 16 years or older. Registration may be completed at Red Cross headquarters, 404 Market st., or by calling the office at 723-6000. Instructors are: Beverly Abbott, Viola Abbott and Marie Oriole. Miss Beverly Abbott has recently completed an intensive life saving instructors course at Camp Mission Meadows, Jamestown, N.Y. under the auspices of the Warren chapter.

GSA

"It is for this reason that I have instructed the staff to identify the projects which can be halted now. We could then transfer the funds that we do have to these projects which are nearest completion."

"This would result, however," he added, "in loss of momentum, costly administrative delays, escalation in construction bids and, most seriously of all, failure to provide the facilities so necessary for the education, health and welfare of Pennsylvania's citizens."

Kunzig said the credit standing of the GSA must be protected in order to assure the future marketability of GSA bonds. "I cannot in good conscience jeopardize the standing of the GSA in the financial community," he said. "Therefore I must be certain that rentals to be received by the GSA will at all times be sufficient to meet the debt service on the presently outstanding bonds of the authority. This will be done."

"Consequently," he said, "the GSA will not authorize future borrowings — including one scheduled for mid-November this year — unless the legislature provides the revenues and rental appropriations required."

Another local project under discussion, but as yet planned only tentatively, would be financed by another GSA — the federal General Services Administration. This project would not be affected by the state GSA move. The only connection between the two organizations is the identity of their initials.

Miss Pa.

"College," Doris Ann said, "is the most valuable experience that a person may have in early adulthood."

A member of the National Honor Society, Doris Ann was Miss Civil Air Patrol while in high school. In the current competition, she was chosen first Miss Hemphill (Township) in a competition sponsored by the Hemphill Junior Chamber of Commerce. Then Doris Ann won the Miss Lancaster County Pageant title in a contest sponsored by the Ephrata Jaycees. On April 17, in a competition with 16 other girls from all parts of the Commonwealth, she was chosen Miss Pennsylvania.

For her talent presentation, she borrowed a period wedding gown of a friend's great-grandmother and sang a medley of "gay nineties" tunes including "By the Light of the Silvery Moon."

The Miss Pennsylvania competition is termed the Pennsylvania Scholarship Pageant since more than $3,500 in scholarships are provided to the winning girls by the Pepsi Cola Bottlers of Pennsylvania. As Miss Pennsylvania, Doris Ann received a $1,000 Pepsi Cola scholarship. James van Tilburg, of the Pepsi Cola Bottling Co. of Jamestown, N.Y., is arranging her visitation to Warren Tuesday.

State's July Draft Quota Calls for One Local Man

(TMO Harrisburg Bureau) HARRISBURG — One Warren County youth has been slated for induction in the July draft call while 24 other county youths will be called for pre-induction physical, examinations during the month, State Selective Service Headquarters said yesterday. The one youth slated for induction from the county during July represents the same as last month's quota.

The 24 being scheduled for pre-induction physicals is an upswing of nine over the number called for examination in June.

The Warren County inductee, Musmanno Says Clark's Move Anti-Democrat

PITTSBURGH (AP) — State Supreme Court Justice Michael A. Musmanno responded yesterday to a report that Sen. Joseph Clark will run for re-election by calling the senator "an albino around the neck of the Democratic Party."

Musmanno, who was defeated in a 1964 bid for a senatorial nomination, said he's considering running against Clark but hasn't made up his mind yet. He vowed to campaign against Clark, at any rate.

Clark backed Miss Genevieve Blatt against Musmanno in 1964, even though the justice had the party's backing.

Corry Man Badly Injured

A Corry man was expected to undergo surgery at St. Vincent Hospital for leg injuries suffered late Thursday afternoon in a one-car crash on Route 430 between Findley Lake and Sherman, N.Y. A passenger was slightly injured.

Injured was Michael Buchko, 19, of RD 4, Corry. He was listed as driver of the car.

Treated and released for minor abrasions was William Silvass, 20, RD 2, Corry.

According to Silvass, the mishap occurred when the road became slippery and the car went into a telephone pole and rolled over into a ditch.

Chautauqua Lightup Needs More Flares

A heavy demand for flares for next Tuesday's lightup of Chautauqua Lake has been reported according to A. B. Bottini, president of Chautauqua Lake Region.

The annual Independence Day celebration sponsored by Chautauqua Lake Region attracts thousands of spectators from New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Canada each year.

Bottini urged those who intend to light flares to purchase them as soon as possible as long as the supply lasts. The flare lightup will begin Tuesday evening at 10 p.m. with the signal to light the flares coming over radio station WJTN.

wood and some sections of the Town of Busti were without service from approximately 4 to 6:30 a.m. but little hardship was reported due to the early hour.

The office supervisor for Niagara Mohawk Power Corp. in Lakewood said the blackout was caused when lightning struck and damaged insulation at a substation here.

The heavy rains were welcomed by Jamestown department of public utilities officials but water usage restrictions ordered three weeks ago are scheduled to continue indefinitely.

After a dry May the Jamestown area has received more than five inches of rain so far this month.

Jamestown Water Decline Continues; Still Not Critical

Jamestown's water supply continued to decline this week, but the rate of decline was not as great as it has been in the recent past.

Board of Public Utilities superintendent, Merle W. Smedburg said yesterday that the reading at the Ross Mills pumping station was about one foot below last Friday's reading and 1.5 feet below the level at this time last year.

Last week's drop was more than two feet, but was lower than the previous week when the level dropped more than three and one half feet. Speculation by P.P.U. officials has it that some of the changes may be a benefit of the large amount of rainfall this week or the result of the water ban imposed in Jamestown on June 13.

Talent Night At Playhouse

A variety of acts, including performances by Suzette Johnson, Miss Warren County, and Vicky Cox, a member of her court, are slated for the talent show at the Playhouse Playhouse Monday night.

Also competing for cash prizes will be a number of rock bands, dancers and singers. Hosting as emcee for the program which begins at 8 p.m., is Frank Nichols of Warren.

Prizes to be awarded are: first prize, $25; second, $15; and third prize, $10. Arrangements are under way to have the winners appear on television.

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — The California Legislature sent Gov. Ronald Reagan a $5.13-billion budget Thursday, the highest in any state's history. It requires a tax increase of almost $800 million.

The final figure of $5,126,709 was $502 million above the "strict economy budget" Reagan proposed in January, and $68 million up from the revised spending program he asked for later.

PARIS (AP) — A car blocking a sidewalk is not unusual in Paris but this time a homicide ensued.

It started Wednesday, police said, when Marcel Pegorier, 25, a cafe worker, stopped his car on a driveway crossing a sidewalk. He was out of his car and was opening a garage door to drive in.

The pedestrian, Maurice Defosse, 54, a metal worker, came up to the vehicle and, angry that his path was blocked, dealt a violent kick to a car fender.

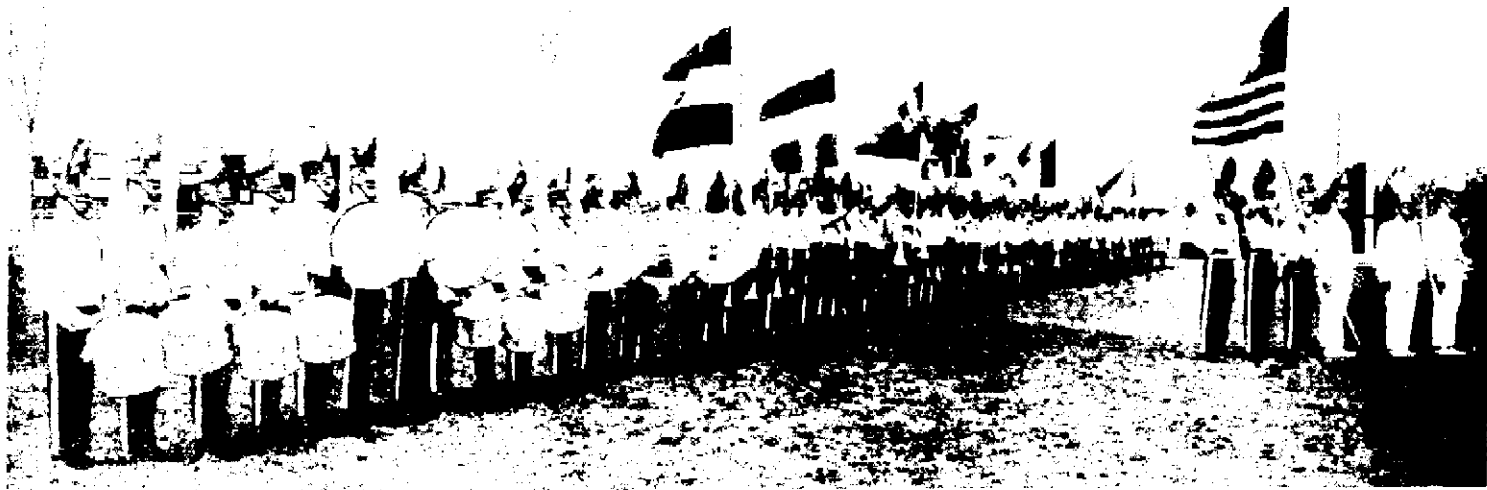

Words were exchanged, then blows. Defosse retreated, leaving Pegorier thinking the incident was closed. But a few minutes later when he left the garage on foot, Pegorier encountered his adversary, this time armed with an air-powered stapling gun—the kind masons use.

Police said a witness told them Defosse placed the gun against Pegorier's chest and drove a staple into his heart. The assailant fled, but was caught and severely beaten by a crowd before police came.

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet fishing vessels in the northern seas are getting the Communist party paper Pravda delivered to them via radiofloph and the Fisheries Ministry announced such transmissions will be made worldwide soon to the far-flung fleets. Edited in Moscow and printed in two dozen cities, the earth-bound editions have six million circulation.

LONDON (AP) — Putting aside the usual neighborhood fears of noise, loss of farm land and disruption of daily routine, the House of Commons have approved a government project to locate London's third international airport at Stansted, Essex, about 30 air miles north of London. It will take some of the load off Heathrow and Gatwick airports.

DRUM CORPS COMPETE HERE TUESDAY

Among the four drum and bugle corps competing in the twelfth annual Spectacle of Music will be the Kingsmen of Hamburg, N.Y. A total of $1,100 in prize money will be competed for in the annual program which will get underway at 3 p.m. Tuesday at Memorial Field.

LOCAL SHOW HAS TOP PRIZE MONEY

Drum Corps Competition Tuesday

The Cornplanters' Drum and Bugle Corps will sponsor their 12th annual Spectacle of Music this year with four well known corps competing for a total of $1,100 in prize money.

In addition to the four competing corps a special exhibition by the Twin City Imps of Oil City, a fairly new group which has already established a name for itself, will be featured at the gala affair which begins at 3 p.m. Tuesday at Memorial Field.

The four competing corps will be the Kingsmen of Hamburg, N.Y., the Shoreliners of North East, Pa., the Maumee Demons of Maumee, Ohio and the Thunderbirds of Meadville. Each group has been practicing over the winter months and are just getting into the season performing their new drill routines and musical repertoires.

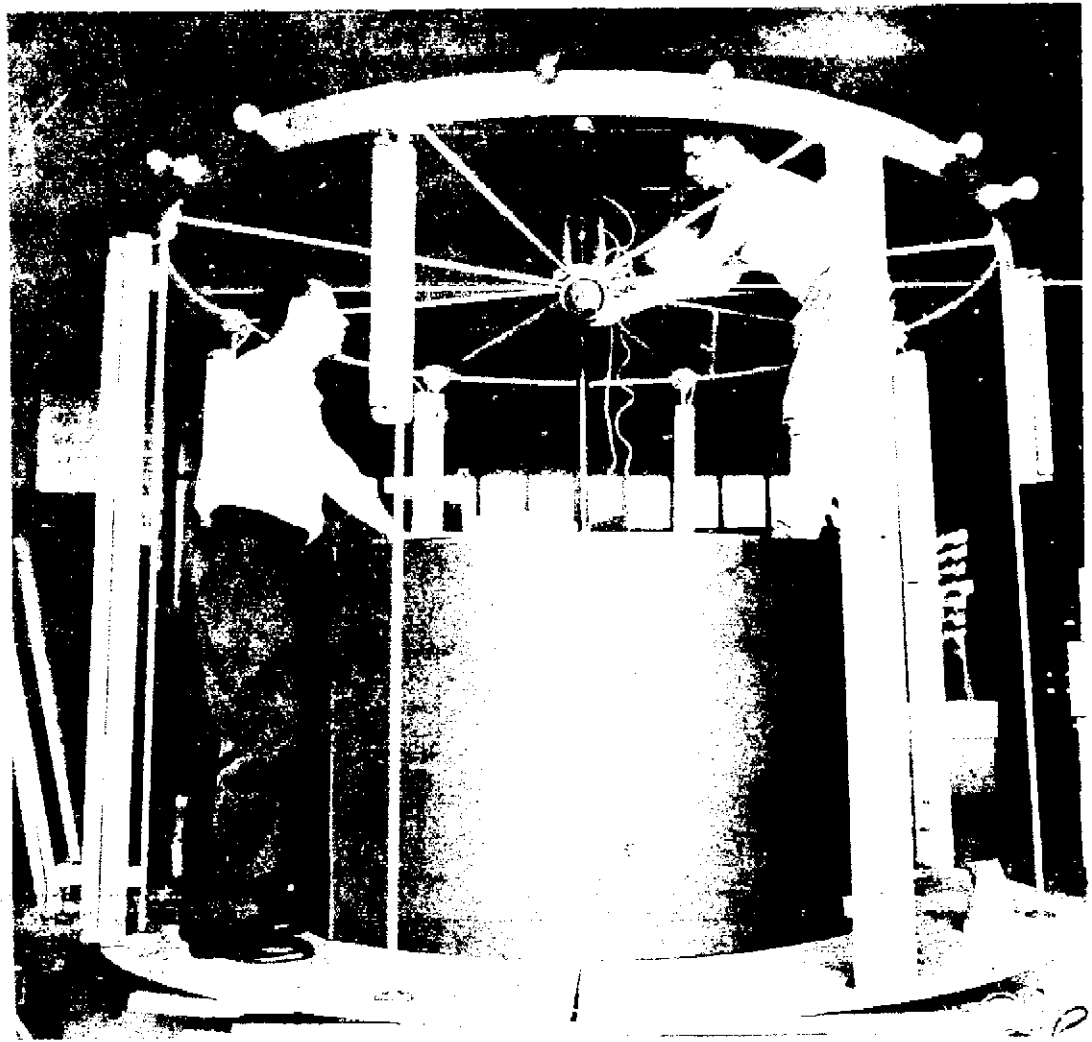

The Kingsmen of Hamburg, N.Y., have been active in competition since 1959 and holds four New York Penn circuit championships. This year the group will feature musical renditions of "On a Wonderful Day Like Today," "On a Clear Day," "Sabre Dance," "Somewhere Over the Rainbow" and several others.

The Shoreliners of North East, Pa., are sponsored by VFW Post 4789. Among their musical arrangements will be featured a rendition of the academy award winning song, "Born Free."

Made up of members from both Ohio and Michigan, the Maumee Demons are the current Midwest Senior Drum and Bugle Corps Assoc. champion and the Ohio American Legion and VFW senior state champions. The corps is sponsored by the American Legion Post 320 and VFW Post 3255 of Maumee, Ohio. Some of the music heard in their 12 minute routine will be "This Land is My Land," "The Cardinal," "A Spoonful of Sugar," "Dreamville" and others.

Familiar to area spectators are the Thunderbirds of Meadville, who are celebrating their tenth anniversary. Their 64 member group will entertain with such music as "Annie Get Your Gun," "Impossible Dream," "Taboo" and others. This year's prize money will be $400 first prize, $300 second and $200 each for third and fourth places. As in previous years the competition will be judged by the All American Judging Assoc. of Penna.

Admission to the program will be $2 for adults and $1 for children.

RUSSIANS DEMAND 'PUNISHMENT'

Pentagon Admits New Ship Bombing at Haiphong Dock

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. warplanes may have bombed a Soviet cargo ship in Haiphong harbor while attacking nearby North Vietnamese anti-aircraft positions, the Pentagon said yesterday.

The incident—the second in less than a month—drew a "resolute protest" from Moscow and a Soviet demand for "strict punishment of the guilty."

"Although pilots are under instructions to avoid Soviet shipping," the Defense Department said, "it is possible that certain of the ordnance directed at the anti-aircraft site fell on the ship."

It said the air defense installation under attack was about 500 yards from the ship.

The Pentagon ordered an investigation.

It avoided any flat statements that might boomerang, as happened June 18 when it had to eat a denial that American planes had struck another Soviet freighter at a small port northeast of Haiphong. Moscow reported one killed and several wounded in this episode.

The Soviet government identified the ship involved in the latest incident as the Mikhail Frunze. It said the merchantman was damaged but made no mention of any death or injuries to Soviet crewmen aboard. The Russians reported the ship struck June 29 by an anti-personnel bomb of the type often used against anti-aircraft batteries.

At the same time, the official East German news agency ADN claimed that American bombers had hit four merchant ships while attacking oil installations near Haiphong.

It identified the ships as the Frunze, the British vessel Kingford, the Italian ship Bertina, and a Chinese craft called Kong Ky 157. All were damaged, ADN said.

The Pentagon's statement made no mention of any vessels other than the Soviet. "During an attack on the Haiphong petroleum storage facilities located in the dock area in Haiphong," the Defense Department said, "two U.S. aircraft assigned to protect the bombing planes from ground air defenses attacked an air defense site approximately 500 yards from the location of the ship which the Soviets state was damaged."

The Pentagon said that commanders have been asked to examine flight paths taken by the American warplanes and poststrike photography to gather all possible information.

U.S. military sources said the Navy planes, based on a carrier in the Gulf of Tonkin, were using cluster bombs against heavily concentrated anti-aircraft guns.

Their mission was "flak suppression"—to destroy the guns and radar, if possible, or at least to drive crews to cover so they could not fire on other warplanes striking at the main targets.

The Communists have thickened their anti-aircraft defenses in all vital areas, chiefly around Hanoi and Haiphong. U.S. commanders claim the flak is heavier over these targets than it was even in World War II.

Tidioute Lions Barbecue Today

The Tidioute Lions Club will serve a chicken barbecue today on Tidioute's Main street between the Bell Telephone building and the C&M Market. The barbecue dinners, consisting of chicken, potato salad, buttered roll and beverage, will be offered at 1 p.m. and continue until 500 dinners are sold. The price is $1.50 per plate.

Proceeds will be used to finance Tidioute's foreign exchange student's trip to Argentina this summer. Edward Ziegler, a TIS senior this coming fall, already is in South America through a program co-sponsored locally by the Tidioute Lions, the Tidioute Fortnightly Club, and the Future Teachers of America chapter.

Buffalo Riot Studied by Rockefeller

By MARVIN R. PIKE
BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller made a long distance move yesterday to end three nights of racial violence. He called upon a famed former baseball player to help calm dissident Negro youths in this city's riot-torn lower East Side.

Rockefeller, attending the Republican Governors' Conference at Jackson Hole, Wyo., also had no intention, aides said, of ordering the New York National Guard to quell the rock-throwing, window-smashing, looting and arson that has persisted since Tuesday. He had no request to do so, an aide said.

The governor's decision to send former Brooklyn Dodger star Jackie Robinson, special assistant on urban affairs, to Buffalo was the first move by Rockefeller to intervene in the violence — heavy Tuesday and Wednesday nights and sporadic Thursday night.

Since Tuesday, nightly rioting by 1,000 or more Negroes — many of them teen-agers and in their early 20s — has had this toll:

— 89 injuries, including 26 from shotgun pellets.

— 182 arrests, mostly on minor charges.

— 22 fires, with total damage estimated by fire department officials at $100,000. In addition, nearly 50 false alarms have been sounded.

— Countless incidents of window-breaking and looting of business places.

THIEU IS NO. 1

Ky Pulls Out; Takes 2nd Spot

(c) N.Y. Times News Service
SAIGON — Premier Nguyen Cao Ky withdrew from the presidential race yesterday and agreed to run for vice president on the ticket of his rival, Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, the chief of state.

The 37-year-old premier's hopes for the presidency were smashed by the opposition of senior generals in the South Vietnamese army. They prevailed upon him, in a series of heated meetings that lasted for 20 hours over three days, to pull out "for the good of the nation."

Ky was reported to have accepted the setback in good spirits. But many Vietnamese, who had seen him suddenly transformed from the favorite for president into an aspirant for a figurehead position, said he had been humiliated.

The startling realignment—perhaps the most important since the present junta took power two years ago—fore-stalled, at least for the moment a split in the armed forces.

Such a split, which had seemed a real possibility as the hostility between the Ky and Thieu forces became more pronounced, could have hampered the allied war effort.

President Johnson and American officials here had urged the two officers not to allow politics to interfere with the conduct of the war. The President told them at the Guam Conference this spring that they must always "stick together."

Spokesmen for Ky said he had decided to step aside out of "patriotism and unselfishness." But generals who took part in the meetings, as well as other sources, reported that he had been artfully out-manuevered by Thieu, who engineered a dramatic change in the military power structure.

Thieu was able to do this, the sources said, because Ky indulged in what the other generals considered flagrant abuses of power.

Reaction among diplomats and other observers was guarded. American embassy officials, who conceded that they had been astonished by what happened, expressed hope that the Thieu-Ky alliance would end the bickering among the generals and promote honest elections.

Balloons Fly At Playgrounds; Winners Listed

Blue skies with many sizes and colors of balloons made a cheerful combination in borough playgrounds yesterday as local children competed in the annual balloon contests.

Sharing the honors with a variety of balloons and balloon tricks at Beech st. playground were: Brian Woodcock, Dino Fracassi and Joe Durante. Twenty-four participants competed.

At Lacy playground the winners were: Gloria Jordan, Kathy Tome, Barb Beckem and Cathy Dee.

At Memorial a total of 25 children took part in the balloon contests with the following winners: Gary Truitt, Mark Bull, Mark Zingone and Kim Cosmano.

After judging 40 contestants at Carbon playground the top three were narrowed down to Robin Regina, Terry Salerno and Ted Denny.

Beaty playground had 25 in their contests with Dave Campbell, Joe Lascola and Mary Lou Beach winning in the 9 years and younger group, and Dave Boyd, Anthony Lascola and Sue Gebhardt victorious in the 10 years and older category.

Washington Straddles Viet Line

(c) N.Y. Times News Service
WASHINGTON — The Administration, surprised but privately encouraged by political developments in Saigon, sought yesterday to maintain impartiality on the political infighting within the South Vietnamese military junta.

The State Department emphasized that the United States "neither supports nor opposes any candidate" in the South Vietnamese presidential election. The department also sought to stress in a statement that the United States had no hand in Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's decision to withdraw as a presidential candidate.

"The U.S. government has at no time, through any representative, taken the position that any specific individual should or should not run for high office in South Vietnam," department spokesman Robert J. McCloskey said in a prepared statement. "The United States consistently has taken the position that selection of candidates and the final choice for high office must be made by the South Vietnamese people themselves."

Constitutional Convention to Be Discussed

HARRISBURG (AP) — Lt. Gov. Raymond J. Broderick said Thursday that 500 organizations have been invited to send spokesmen to public hearings next month on Pennsylvania's constitutional convention.

Broderick, chairman of the convention's preparatory committee, said the hearings would be held in Harrisburg July 13-14, 20-21 and 27-28.

Although invitations have been sent to specific organizations, Broderick said, this does not mean that other groups or individuals are to be excluded.

Holiday Death Toll May Hit New High

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Americans by the thousands rolled away on motor trips yesterday at the start of the long Independence Day holiday.

The weather generally was favorable for travel, with clear skies and warm temperatures in most of the country. But there was some rain in the South and East.

The National Safety Council estimated that 700 to 800 lives might be lost in traffic accidents during the tabulation period that began at 6 p.m. yesterday and will end at midnight Tuesday.

The holiday means four days of leisure for millions.

The council figured motor vehicle travel in that time would approximate 13 billion miles, making it the biggest driving holiday so far in 1967.

The Associated Press made a survey of motor vehicle fatalities for a nonholiday period of equal length—from 6 p.m. Friday, June 16, to midnight Tuesday, June 20. The total was 530. There was widespread rain on that long weekend. Rain usually curbs traffic deaths by slowing speed and making drivers more alert.

The record traffic toll for an Independence Day period was set during last year's three-day celebration. It was 576.

The lowest loss of life on streets and highways in any four-day Independence Day holiday period since World War II was recorded in 1946. It was 321.

The highest traffic death toll for any holiday period was reported during the four-day Thanksgiving observance last year. It was 748.

During the four-day Memorial Day observance this year, 608 traffic deaths were reported, a record for a Memorial Day period.

The River's a Killer

This is the time of year when the Allegheny River flows its course through the county in its most placid manner. Its waters dance down the riffles and swirls serenely in the deep eddys. It's a friendly waterway whose waters offer relief from the summer heat to the swimmer and a magic carpet of travel to the boater. Beneath its surface game fish of many species await the angler's lure. And at any point on its course it is a thing of rare scenic beauty.

But beware. This river is a killer. Its charm is its treachery. And only those who know and respect its vicious character will survive.

This is well to remember at a time when Governor Shafer has proclaimed the week of July 2-8 as Safe Boating week in Pennsylvania. He urges all persons to use vigilance, courtesy and common sense as the ABC's of boating safety.

It's Hard to Swallow

(c) N. Y. Times News Service
NEW YORK — At the southern edge of Central Park there is a bird sanctuary posted with warnings against human trespass. On Tuesday a crowd at the fence was gazing at something in a tree. "It's certainly not Super-man!" cried a child. "No," said an old man who had once traveled beyond Manhattan. "It's a bird."

A bird it was. Late that night it was easy to scale the forbidden fence. You could hear the bird up on a maple branch trying to cough the smog out of its lungs. It was very lonely and glad of the chance to talk.

He was a swallow, he said, who had tired of going back to Capistrano year after year and had decided to come, for a change, to New York.

This had been a grave mistake. Air traffic control at Kennedy Airport had ordered him to circle 40 minutes in the Medford holding area. After he was clear for landing in Central Park he made the mistake of following the highway signs, ended up in East Orange, N.J., and was almost shot down by the Air Defense Command for casting an unscheduled blip on radar.

And how was he enjoying his stay?

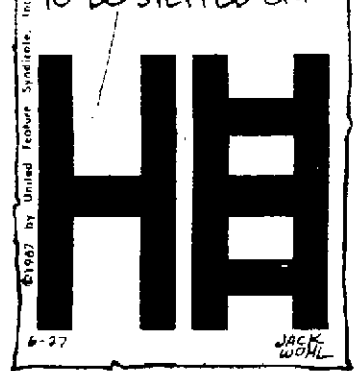

"This is the silliest bird town

I've ever seen," he said. "Most of the children have never seen a real bird before. They stare at me and say, 'Look at the midget pigeon!' Yesterday a mother says to her child, 'Don't be silly. That's not a midget pigeon. It's a cow.'"

The loneliness of being a bird in New York was depressing, the swallow said. "I spent a whole day flying around before I met a single girl bird worth a second look. She's a parakeet and she's living in a window cage up in the Bronx. I sat on the window ledge pretending to listen to this long tale about what a great liberal she was while trying to find some way to spring the cage latch, when into the room walks this woman.

The Tax Mess

HARRBURG — Sixteen days of sessions have left the House of Representatives no closer to a solution of Pennsylvania's fiscal problems than it was on June 1.

That was the day of sweetness and light when Gov. Shafer presented tax proposals for a $1.79 billion program. He said is designed "neither to under serve our people, nor to over tax them."

Well, the month has passed, the Commonwealth goes into its new fiscal year on stopgap appropriations and there is no consensus favoring either the governor's budget or his tax proposals.

While Republicans bickered, Democrats emerged from their daily caucus in high spirits. They would hold the line against the proposals, they said; now, as June gives way to July, not a scrap of useful evidence has been uncovered to the contrary.

One conclusion is certain: the tax proposals—both their substance and their extent—are unpalatable to a substantial number of Republicans. A second, even stronger pattern also emerges: many of the Republican rank and file are contending that budget reductions and general economies are in order.

With a bare majority of 102, every Republican vote would count—even that of ailing Rep. Warren Spencer of Ploga who, if a vote comes—must be brought here from a Danville hospital in a wheel chair or litter; and that of Rep. Victor J. Westenberg of McKean who has been on the ailing list for more than a month.

One by one, Republicans have had the prospect of greatness thrust upon them, as they were called in for consultation by the Governor. Rep. George Gekas of Dauphin County listened, stone-faced, as Gov. Shafer asked for his support and suggested that he "think of the good of the people of the state." Replied Gekas, courteously and curtly, "I am."

Rep. Percy Foor of Bedford wants five percent cut from the budget, across the board; Berks Republican William G. Piper is talking about 10 percent and corresponding cuts in the tax proposals.

"The Governor had me in, and (PUC chairman) George Bloom, (once GOP state chairman) had me in," reports Rep. Foor. "But I am sticking to my guns."

Democrats, meanwhile, have pursued a course of heckling the Governor on his arithmetic. They have found, they say, $35 million worth of fat in the budget. But their major claim is that Gov. Shafer's revenue projections for 1966-67—using existing taxes—are $167 million too low.

Democratic proposals to slash $35 million from the budget are nowhere near the kind of reductions being urged by members of the Governor's party. Thus, the Governor and the Democrats find themselves in the strange position of getting similar grades in the Philosophy of Government Spending. Somebody, however, is flunking Arithmetic.

Walking Through The Woods

On a favorite walk of mine, I have to cross a wide power line right-of-way in my climb to the top of the plateau. Here I always pause to look down upon the distant highway that funnels traffic up and down the valley. From my high, grassy perch, I am able to view the highway and the surrounding hills in proper perspective. The highway, from this distance, appears as a gray ribbon dotted with tiny cars that give off a faint roar as inconsequential as the hum of insects.

As I leave the scene and plunge into the forest, I realize that I am an alien in worn hiking boots who has turned his back upon the modern world to enjoy a quiet walk in the woods with only my dog for companionship.

I come by this penchant for foot travel honestly enough. I grew up in a period when few people had autos, and instead of a Sunday ride in the family car most people went for Sunday walks. I suppose that if cars and good roads had been as commonplace then as they are today, we would have forsaken walking for riding. Man is physically lazy, and walking just for walking's sake has few adherents. But a walk in the woods has more to offer than walking just for walking's sake. It can open up a whole new world to those who will not exercise their five senses.

I always carry a pencil and notebook with me to record all that I encounter on my woodland rambles. This habit helps me to be more observant, and adds interest to the hike.

Here are a few of the notes that I took on a walk in late June: Strung between two branches of a dead oak sapling was the shattered web of an orb weaver spider. Dangling from it was the cruelly trussed-up carcass of a dragon fly, its body juices sucked dry by the architect of the beautiful web. The spider herself must have been food for some wandering bird, for she had never repaired her web after the fierce encounter with the dragon fly.

Spittle bugs had set up house-keeping in their peculiar frothy houses of white spittle among the new growth of hemlock needles. Mayflower plants, with their umbrella-like leaves formed fairy circles in openings between the trees.

I left the flinty soil and walked the length of a fallen hemlock of long ago. Its trunk was soft and yielding underfoot, for it was now but a moldering, rust-brown ruin of the proud tree that had once stood here.

Shafts of diffused sunlight pierced the morning mists and the canopy of bright green leaves, to light up the forest with an ethereal quality.

An old rotten stump clung stubbornly to a mound of earth formed by an uprooted tree that had long ago melted into the soil. Pole stage sugar maple and black birch ringed the old stump and gave promise of a thrifty new forest on the ruins of the old.

At the foot of a red oak I bent over and stroked the rounded hummocks of moss that reminded me so much of bright green pin cushions.

Nature is a careless housekeeper. She never sweeps up the forest litter that seems to accumulate faster than the agents of decay can return it to the soil.

I was too late to view the most spectacular flower of the trees of the forest but I found the ground littered with its cast-off petals. I knew then that I was standing beneath a tulip poplar tree. The showy petals, about the size of a garden tulip, were splashed with orange on a yellow-green background.

I entered the gloom of a hemlock thicket with its labyrinth of dead branches clinging low to the trees. Carefully I picked my way through it in a crouched position. When I had emerged from the thicket and had straightened up I found myself face to face with the glory of the mountain laurel in full flower.

Walking a crooked path among the fallen chestnut trees I started a tiny brown moth into aimless flight and plucked a fall canker worm out of the sky by its gossamer thread.

The gentle sound of heavy dew dripping from the trees, the earthy smell of forest soil, a bright orange fungus perched on the side of a moss-covered log, and the cold, clammy feel of this saprophyte clinging to my memories of a walk in the woods in late June.

History Repeats Itself

WASHINGTON—Most people have forgotten the circumstances under which another Senator from Connecticut, Hiram Bingham, a Republican, was censured. The man who deserves credit is John A. Kennedy, then a reporter for Universal Service, part of the farflung newspaper empire, later publisher of the Sioux Falls, S.D., Argus-Leader.

In 1928, Congress was writing the Smoot-Hawley Tariff Act, and Kennedy heard that Sen. Bingham was paying a lobbyist from Connecticut $1,000 a month from Senate funds to sit in on Senate Finance Committee hearings. Kennedy finally got Sen. Pat Harrison, D-Miss., to check the Senate payroll and Charles Eyanon's name was discovered.

Kennedy interviewed him. Naively Eyanon told of his work to protect Connecticut manufacturers, and during the course of their conversation he went out to take a call from Joe Grundy, head of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers Association and a power in GOP politics.

Kennedy then noted on Eyanon's desk a telegram to a Connecticut gunstock manufacturer informing him that Eyanon was protecting the tariff on gunstocks. Eyanon sent the wire as a representative of the Connecticut Manufacturers Association, which put him in a direct conflict of interest.

When Eyanon came back, Kennedy asked him for copies of some of the work he was doing including the telegram, Eyanon obliged.

Kennedy's subsequent newspaper story caused the Senate to censure Sen. Bingham. Kennedy was nominated for a Pulitzer award by the nominating committee, but was overruled by the Pulitzer top brass.

This was the fourth censure of a Senator in American history. The fifth was that of Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin; the sixth that of another Connecticut Senator, Tom Dodd.

The origin of McCarthy's censure came Dec. 22, 1953, with a Washington Merry-Go-Round column reporting that Gerard David Schine, a former McCarthy investigator, was the object of favoritism after being drafted into the Army at Fort Dix, N.J.

"Two or three times a week Roy Cohn, counsel for McCarthy's Committee, has called the commanding officer to ask how Gerard David was getting along," this column reported.

"The Senator," said Cohn ominously, "wants to know."

"Finally Gen. Cornelius Ryan, Commander of the 19th Infantry Division, could take it no longer. He got in touch with the Secretary of the Army, Robert Stevens, explained the constant interference of Joe McCarthy's counsel, asked him what he should do about it."

"General," replied the Secretary of the Army, "this is one you've got to handle yourself."

Cohn's harassment continued and on Feb. 15, 1954, this column reported how Schine "led a charmed life in the Army" and how "though only a private, superior officers almost bow and scrape before him." One officer who didn't, the Commander of the Provost Marshal's School at Camp Gordon, Ga., Col. Francis Kreidel, who had the temerity to protest against Schine's assignment to the Provost Marshal's School, was transferred to Tokyo.

More details were reported regarding McCarthy's intervention to have Schine transferred from basic training at Fort Dix direct to the Provost Marshal's School even though no one is admitted to that school unless "under regulation 615-215-1 he has two years' service and unless he has the rank of corporal or higher. Schine had only four months' service and is a private."

The column reported how McCarthy bulldozed the Army into giving Schine his weekends off to come to Washington; and how Roy Cohn protested when Schine at the Provost Marshal's School was given a job learning to direct traffic. "Cohn wanted his friend to go direct into criminal investigation, not horse around with basic police training and traffic problems," the column reported.

"Mr. Cohn was so upset about this that he has been telephoning the office of Secretary of the Army Stevens demanding that Schine be spared this basic training. If Gerard is not spared, Roy warns, he is going to see to it that the Secretary of the Army is fired."

Ten days later Sen. McCarthy, sore at the treatment given his assistant Schine and irked over alleged Army leaks to this column, summoned Secretary of the Army Stevens before his committee to answer charges of communism at Fort Monmouth, N.J., adjacent to Fort Dix.

Thus began the Army-McCarthy investigation during which McCarthy was so highhanded toward various army officers that the Senate finally decided to investigate McCarthy himself.

Just as the Senate ducked some of the more serious charges in the Dodd case, the Senate also ducked much of McCarthy's more serious behavior and confined the motion of censure directly to his treatment of fellow Senators.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir:

In your editorial on Friday, June 30, 1967, your comments are that Warren Players Club deserved much credit for the venture in entertaining the community during the summer months with Plowright Play House and the Summer Theatre.

We do not wish to steal any laurels on our behalf which are not earned.

Warren Players Club as such has no interest in the Summer Theatre or Plowright Play House except that some of the personnel belong to both groups.

The Summer Theatre at Plowright Play House is controlled and operated by an entirely different organization than Warren Players Club. We will be back in the fall.

Sincerely yours,

The One Man Who Escaped

WASHINGTON—They said it couldn't be done, but I finally found a man who lived in Glassboro, N.J., who hadn't been interviewed by the press.

Unlike all of Glassboro's other citizens, he wasn't surprised in the least that Glassboro had been selected as the place for a summit meeting.

"If you were Premier Kosygin and President Johnson, where would you meet?" he said.

"Well, I don't think I would have thought of Glassboro," I replied frankly.

"The obvious choice would have been Summit, N.J.," he said. "But if you look at a map you'll see Summit is closer to New York than it is to Washington, and President Johnson couldn't go there. So they had to meet in Glassboro or out in the middle of the New Jersey Turnpike."

"Were you impressed with seeing Premier Kosygin?" I asked him.

"If you've seen one Soviet premier you've seen them all," he said. "But you've got to admit it was a great honor to have him in your town. He had nice things to say about Glassboro."

"He had nice things to say about everything until he got back to New York, and then, zowie, he let the United States have it. I think it would have helped if he were nastier in Glassboro and nicer at the United Nations."

"But don't you think the world is a better place because Kosygin and Mr. Johnson met in Glassboro?"

"The world may be a better place, but the big question is, is Glassboro a better place?"

"What do you mean by that?"

"Well, this was a small town, and we were simple people who didn't have too many opinions on anything. Now, wherever you go everybody wants to talk about world politics. The grocery man wants to know if I think we should have a nuclear non-proliferation treaty, the candy store owner says he's against an antiballistic missile defense treaty and the garage attendant has come out for disarmament. It's hard to get anyone to talk about the Philadelphia Phillies any more."

"But you are on the map."

"You don't have to tell me that. I got relatives I never heard of who keep calling and wanting to visit us. Guys I went to school with pull up in station wagons with their families and want me to take them over to Hollybush where the summit took place. We got tourists coming out of our ears."

"But at least the 'spirit of Glassboro' will go down in history books all over the world." "You ever read a Soviet history book? They'll probably say the summit took place in Rhode Island."

"In spite of what you say, I'm sure you would be flattered if the leaders of the world decided to have another summit meeting in Glassboro," I said.

"I suppose so. It would be worth it just to see Charles de Gaulle's face after he got a whiff of some parts of New Jersey."

Dear Sir:

Warren Summer Theatre is grateful to the Times Mirror and Observer for its cooperation with publicity and especially for its editorial support.

However, your editorial for June 30 contained a misconception which has been a source of confusion since the inception of Warren Summer Theatre and which we now hope to clear up once and for all.

The productions at the Plowright Playhouse are not a program of the Warren Players Club. They are being presented by Warren Summer Theatre. The two organizations are separate entities and are not affiliated in any manner whatsoever. This spring, Warren Players authorized a letter to the Chamber of Commerce pointing this out.

Warren Summer Theatre does have the best wishes of the Players Club and members of our board and many of our actors also are members of Warren Players.

The editorial did present an excellent idea for supporting Warren by supporting summer theater—an idea we hope to implement as soon as possible.

Sincerely,
(s) Walter Erbland
For Warren Summer Theatre

(Editor's Note: We apologize. But in case the two groups decide to get together in the future, might we suggest the following title: The Warren Summer Players Plowright Scandia Straw Hat Theatre Club Playhouse.

As Shakespeare said, all the world is but a stage).

Hill and Dale Plan Annual Show

The annual flower show of the Hill and Dale Garden Club is scheduled to be held in the Lander Parish House on August 31, according to an announcement made at the recent club meeting by president Mrs. Lavern Devore. Mrs. William Rhubottom of Greenhurst was the guest speaker for the meeting held in the hospitality room of the Northwest Savings Bank in Warren. Twenty-nine members and guests attended the Wednesday afternoon affair.

Mrs. Rhubottom lectured on the main points of flower arranging and covered various aspects of judging in flower shows. To emphasize her points, she made a number of demonstration arrangements from flowers brought in by members. She was assisted by Mrs. Robert Morgan.

Cookies and coffee were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Paul Wood, Mrs. Paul Lindell and Mrs. Sherman Bliss. Mrs. Scott Stuart Sr. won the door prize.

Warren Women Attend National Meeting Of Presbyterian Women

Mrs. John W. Lutz, Mrs. Clair Proud Jr., Mrs. Frank Churchill Jr., of First Presbyterian Church, Warren were among 5,000 participants from the U. S. and abroad at the Third Triennial National Meeting of United Presbyterian Women, which opened June 26 at West Lafayette, Ind.

The meeting was held on the campus of Purdue University, and ends today.

The purpose of the meeting was "to make evident and compelling the meaning of God's gift of reconciliation through Christ and the ways in which twentieth century Christians can believe it, accept it, share it, and live it," explained Miss Mary E. Turrentine of New York, program planner. Miss Turrentine is Executive for Women's Program of the United Presbyterian Commission on Ecumenical Mission and Relations.

Theme of the meeting was "No Longer Strangers."

Four major contemporary issues were explored at the meeting. They were technology, social revolution, the growing gap between generations, and achieving peace with justice.

The issues were presented by addresses from U.S. representatives Edith Green (D-Ore.); Dr. John Coventry Smith, New York, General Secretary of the United Presbyterian Commission on Ecumenical Mission and Relations; Dr. Margaret Shannon, New York, Executive Director of Church Women United; Miss Aida Gindy, Social Affairs Officer of the United Nations; and Lady Jackson (Barbara Ward), British economist, writer and lecturer.

Among other speakers were the Rev. Peggy A. Way of the Chicago City Missionary Society; Dr. John R. Moore, El Segundo, Calif., Corporation Executive Vice President of North American Aviation, Inc.; Edward B. Lindaman, Fullerton, Calif., of the U.S. Space Apollo Program; and the Rev. Dr. Harry E. Smith of Chapel Hill, N.C.

Daily interpretations of how the issues of technology, social revolution, youth, and peace relate to the Bible were presented by Dr. Lewis S. Mudge of Amherst (Mass.) College. In business sessions, the 500 voting delegates acted on a proposed set of guidelines for United Presbyterian Women programs for the next three years.

Among the guidelines was a proposal that encourages women "to participate more fully in the ecumenical movement within the Christian Church and to join with all other men and women who share their concern for areas of common action in the world."

Participants also were urged to engage in a new program called DARE, to be launched at Purdue for the 1967-70 triennium.

United Presbyterian Women is composed of 566,300 members in the thirty-three synods and 137 presbyteries. The organization annually contributes some $5 million for the on-going work of the 3.3 million member denomination's program boards and agencies.

Peace Corpsman Claims His Right To Speech Infringed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 25-year-old Peace Corps volunteer dismissed for publicly expressing in Chile opposition to U. S. bombing in Vietnam defended Thursday his right to express such an individual opinion even though a Peace Corps volunteer.

The agency had said Bruce Murray of Newport, R. I., had been fired because it is Peace Corps policy not to involve itself in politics.

Murray, back in this country, told a reporter he is fighting his ouster because of "what I considered an infringement on my rights as a citizen" under the First Amendment.

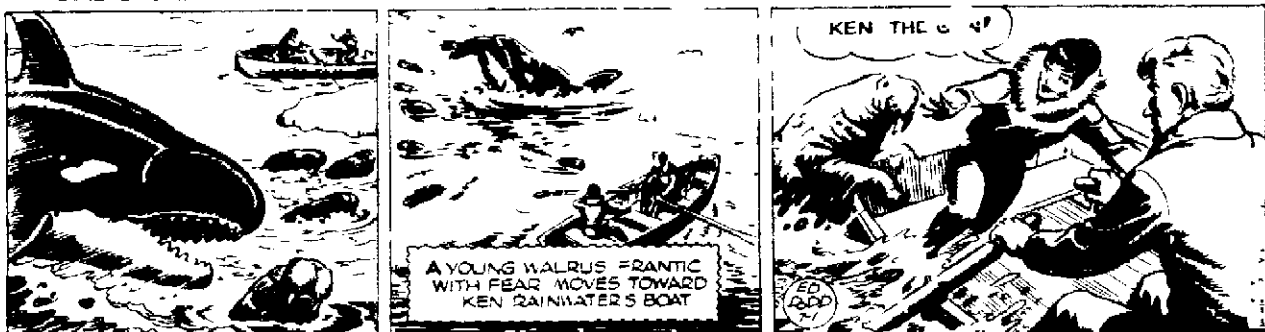

A corps spokesman said Murray was not fired because of his views on Vietnam but because he insisted on injecting the war issue in Chile's politics. He said the war is a major issue in the country.

Murray had been a volunteer for a year and a half and was scheduled to end his service in November. He taught music at the University of Concepcion in Chile.

Your Horoscope

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars, FOR SATURDAY, JULY 1, 1967

ARIES (March 21 to April 20)—Support those working for worthwhile causes. You are a bright, agile mind; your ambition and new ideas are praiseworthy. Make the most of them now. Business interests slated for gain.

TAURUS (April 21 to May 21)—Variable influences, but mostly friendly. Firmness and decisive action will reward a hundredfold. Romance, entertainment generously aspected.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)—Tackle difficult tasks early—with faith and wisely channelled energies. Good Mercury influences should make problems easier to solve, routine pleasant; Meet challenges with a smile.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23)—Certain situations may not please, but others will gratify. No matter which, give your finest performance. Good judgment and clever management will pay off.

LEO (July 24 to August 23)—Without abandoning old but worthwhile projects, work on a new method. This day deserves all the sound effort you can give it, and that should be a lot. The promoter, organizer and salesman among top favored.

VIRGO (August 24 to September 23)—You could try being a mite slower now—so as not to overlook some small item of worth, or someone who has less ability but who belongs in your scheme of things. Artistry stimulated.

LIBRA (September 24 to October 23)—Growing improvement in most areas, yet you will have to curb your emotions and be sure you are not alienating others with present tactics. Strive for objectives with as little strain as possible.

SCORPIO (October 24 to November 22)—Let no "glamorous" encroachments invade your sphere. Uniformity, durability, stability are the marks of a successful native of this Sign. Stress these now.

SAGITTARIUS (November 23 to December 21)—Doctors, businessmen, financiers and actors among the many favored now. A good day for making necessary changes and for making a good showing.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20)—Have you a desire to accomplish bigger things, or unusual things in a bigger way? Well, this is your day! And no matter what may stymie you in the beginning keep the ball rolling.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19)—Some situations may be more involved, more tedious than you thought. This occurs at times. The sensible Aquarian will handle all in his usual practical way.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20)—One of those days that challenges your better instincts—or otherwise. It will be your choice, your decision.

YOU BORN TODAY are genial, likable, willing to work hard for achievement. You make effective orators, judges, business executives, nurses, lawyers, writers, musicians and highly sensitive actors. Despite your many fine talents, you are often diffident about them, however, and often you delay your own progress through lack of confidence in yourself. This timidity, along with hypersensitivity, are two traits which the Cancerian MUST learn to curb before he can reach the high pinnacle of success for which he was destined. Burial of: Charles Laughton and Leslie Caron, cinema stars.

How to Keep Well

By Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

SWIMMING AFTER MEALS

L. Z. writes: "All my life I have been told that a person should not go swimming within one hour after a meal. Is this an old wives' tale or a well-documented precaution?" There are logical reasons why a person should not go swimming immediately after eating, especially in cold water. Following a meal considerable blood is channeled to the upper part of the gastrointestinal tract to help the digestive processes. This increases the work load on the heart.

Those with angina pectoris (hardening of the coronary arteries that bring blood to the heart muscle) may develop chest pain if they exert themselves following a meal. Some of the blood needed by the heart during exertion is diverted into the abdomen to aid digestion.

This is mentioned to demonstrate the effects of stress on a handicapped heart shortly after eating. Swimming also is exertion and those with angina will develop pain and more so when the water is cold. Under these circumstances, an additional supply of blood is diverted initially from the heart muscle into the epidermis to warm the chilled skin.

The young person with no evidence of heart trouble need not be warned against swimming after eating. Catastrophes have occurred among "healthy" swimmers who did not know they had a heart defect. On the other hand, there is no merit in subjecting the organ to the added strain of a dip in the pool soon after eating. The diversion of blood may also encourage leg cramps. Swimming differs from walking in that the individual does not have a place to rest when in distress.

Those sunbathing, floating about, or walking in a warm pool after eating a snack need not follow these precautions.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

TOMORROW: A Ghoulish Game.

CHEWING LESSONS

Mrs. T. A. writes: How can I teach my 26-month-old infant to chew? She insists upon bolting meat and other foods, no matter how I try to teach her to masticate, even using gestures.

REPLY

Many healthy children bolt their food and in this respect, behave like animals. They learn in time thru example and experience.

DEMON RUM

J. S. writes: Ear noises have bothered me for more than two months. I am a great-grandmother of six. My physician tells me that I am in good health. Should I give up any two rum and colas a day?

REPLY

I would say no, unless the noises developed shortly after you began to drink rum and colas.

FROM NUCLEAR DEVICE

Heart Sufferers May Get Relief

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government announced yesterday it has taken the first laboratory test step toward hoped-for development of a nuclear powered device designed to help certain heart disease sufferers.

The Atomic Energy Commission announced it is testing the first model of a cardiac pacemaker.

This one is powered by conventionally-generated electricity, but it is designed to be powered eventually by nuclear energy. And the AEC indicated that test results to date have been so encouraging that tests of atomic-powered ones — in humans — may be possible in the early 1970s. Animal tests would take place much sooner.

The device, an electrical pulse generator, is being developed for the medical treatment of "heart block," a relatively common cardiac disease that causes interruption of the normal electrical stimulus of the heart.

At present, more than 20,000 persons are using pacemakers powered by batteries and implanted within the chest. But these have a lifetime of only two to three years, and major surgery is frequently required to replace the batteries, the AEC said.

Nuclear-powered pacemakers would have the advantage of a much longer operating life—possibly as long as 20 years.

Nuclear-powered pacemakers planned by the AEC would employ radioactive plutonium — 238 as the fuel.

They would operate on the principle of thermoelectricity—that is, heat generated by the emission of radioactivity within the device would be directly converted into electricity.

"The announcement said the Nuclear Materials and Equipment Corp., Apollo, Pa., is the AEC's prime contractor for the pioneering model now under test.

MIG Base Damaged By Bombs

(c) N. Y. Times News Service SAIGON — United States Air Force pilots bombed the Hoaiac MIG air base 20 miles west of Hanoi Thursday cutting two runways and probably destroying two MIG fighter planes on the ground, a U. S. military spokesman said yesterday.

Navy carrier pilots at the same time attacked two targets within five miles of downtown Haiphong, the spokesman added.

Pilots flew 152 missions against the north during the day. The spokesman said no MIGs were sighted in the air and no American planes were reported lost.

On the ground, U. S. Marines of the 9th Regiment fought for 12 hours two miles northeast of Conhien, which is two miles south of the demilitarized zone. Air strikes and artillery hit back at the enemy during the day. The spokesman said 17 North Vietnamese were killed while four Marines were killed and 24 wounded.

Infantrymen of the U. S. 26th Division fought for six hours near Benoit, 25 miles northwest of Saigon. Four U. S. soldiers were killed and 28 wounded, the spokesman said. Enemy casualties, if any, were not reported.

In the evening, a patrol of 25th Division troops in the same area was hit with a single mortar round fired by an American unit. It killed one soldier and wounded five, the spokesman said. An investigation is underway, he added.

IN FLIGHT AT BEATY FIELD

This radio-controlled model airplane is typical of those which will be displayed in flight at Beaty Field Tuesday during the afternoon Fun Fair festivities as part of the Fourth of July celebration. The air show will feature Jamestown's Flying Aces, boasting of some of the area's top model pilots. Topping the 2 p.m. show will be the combat ribbon cutting event, with many other stunts sandwiched in.

ONE OF CHIEF 'DOVES'

Clark Running Again; Has President's Okay

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Sen. Joseph S. Clark, one of the sharpest critics of President Johnson's Vietnam policy, told the President he plans to run for a third term, it was reported yesterday.

A published report said that Clark told the President of his decision two weeks ago at a meeting of Democrats in the White House.

The President is said to have replied that he was happy to hear of Clark's decision. The 66-year-old Democratic senator, despite his dovish Vietnam stand, supports many of the administration's programs, mainly the war on poverty.

Clark is spending the Independence Day weekend at his cabin at Jackson Hole, Wyo., and was unavailable for comment.

The report, which appeared in yesterday's editions of the Philadelphia Bulletin, quoted White House sources as saying that President Johnson told the meeting:

"Clark is going to win in Pennsylvania and is going to help me carry that state."

In Washington, a Clark aide confirmed that the senator conferred recently with President Johnson, but said he could not say whether the senator told Johnson he would seek a third term.

Clark, a former Philadelphia mayor, won his Senate seat in 1956 from the incumbent Republican, James H. Duff. He was reelected in 1962, defeating former Rep. James E. Van Zandt, R-Pa.

Shortly afterward, Clark indicated he would not be too interested in running again six years later.

In recent months, Clark has declined to say whether he would seek a third six-year term. He has indicated, however, that a poll he conducted among constituents showed overwhelming sentiment favoring his running again.

Wyoming Meeting Ends for Repubs

(c) N.Y. Times News Service JACKSON HOLE, Wyo.—Republican governors expressed their support yesterday for an open 1968 nominating convention in which as many delegates as possible would be free to vote their own conviction.

Before adjourning a two-day conference at Jackson Lake Lodge here, the Republican Governors Association unanimously approved a resolution favoring "uninstructed delegations" to the national convention provided state laws or favorite son movements were not in conflict.

The resolution is strictly an advisory one and is not expected to change the character of next year's Republican national convention very much. It would have no effect in the dozen states where there is no machinery for instructing delegates.

If the proposal of the governors was widely accepted, however, it would tend to make it more difficult for one candidate to obtain a large bloc of convention votes well in advance, as Barry Goldwater did in 1964.

It would also enhance the role, as convention power brokers, of the Republican governors who could allot their delegate strength without restrictions and enable them to support a presidential candidate not favored by the majority of party leaders in their states.

Gov. Dewey F. Bartlett of Oklahoma, who sponsored the resolution, said it would help create "a climate for free and full debate" at the convention and encourage presidential candidates to campaign in states other than those holding primaries.

This mild attempt at convention reform was almost the only substantive action taken as the 21 Republican governors closed a conference that was long on political talk but short on decision.

How Does Your Garden Grow?

WARMINSTER, Pa. (AP) — A substitute school teacher and a teenage girl have been arrested on charges of selling the drug LSD, authorities said Thursday.

Being held for hearings were Daniel Doloff, 24, of Warminster, Bucks County, a substitute school teacher at the Morris Elementary School and Christine Morrissey, 19, of Philadelphia.

Federal authorities said they arrested the pair Wednesday night when he was in his garden watering alleged marijuana plants.

Authorities said their arrest climaxed a long investigation by agents of the Bureau of Drug Abuse Control, U.S. Department of Food and Drugs. They said they purchased LSD—the so-called "mind-bending" drug—from Doloff and Miss Morrissey.

There had been complaints authorities said, of LSD being sold for "wild parties."

MOL TEAM IS NAMED

First Negro Astronaut Picked in Space Program

By GLADWIN HILL.

(c) N. Y. Times Service EL SEGUNDO, Calif. — The first Negro to be selected for space flight said yesterday he considered his accomplishment "just another of the things we look forward to in the normal progression of civil rights in this country."

He is Air Force Maj. Robert H. Lawrence Jr., 31, of Chicago. In addition to being an experienced flier, he holds a doctorate in physical chemistry from Ohio State University.

Major Lawrence was one of the final four of 16 prospective astronauts chosen for the Defense Department's manned orbiting laboratory program. It aims to put into space by 1970 a 30-foot cylindrical chamber in which two men will cruise up to 30 days in the first study of the military implications of space flight.

The other three of the four introduced at a news conference at the Air Force Space Systems Center here are Maj. James A. Abrahamson, 34, of Portland, Ore., Lt. Col. Robert T. Herres, 34, of Denver, and Maj. Donald H. Peterson, 33, of Winona, Miss.

All are completing the training course at the Aerospace Research Pilot School at Edwards Air Force Base in the Mojave Desert, 100 miles north of Los Angeles. They will begin their "manned orbiting" project work in September, joining 12 previously selected pilots, eight from the Air Force, three from the Navy, and one from the Marine Corps.

The one Negro among about 100 previous graduates of the Edwards school was not assigned to any of the current space programs of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration or the Defense Department.

Major Lawrence, who was an Air Force flight instructor in Germany and a service research scientist at the Air Force weapons laboratory at Albuquerque, N.M., responded to a series of newsmen's questions. "Do you feel you had to try harder than other candidates for this program because you were a Negro?" he was asked.

"No," he replied. "I feel this is the culmination of a lot of effort that people put into preparing me for this, and I feel it is an expression of success that they should enjoy rather than I."

"Did you face the problems other Negroes are complaining they face in getting ahead?" "Somewhat, I think. But exactly what problems an individual faces is hard to say. I've been fortunate at certain junctures in my life."

Major Lawrence said he had worked his way through school "as a bus boy and a waiter, and various things." He graduated from Englewood High in Chicago, and received his bachelor's degree in chemistry at Bradley University. He has been in the Air Force 11 years, and has flown 2,500 hours.

In response to a question as to whether he considered his selection "a tremendous step forward in race relations," Major Lawrence made his diplomatic comment about being part of a "normal progression."

Local Shriners Prepare for August Event

The Warren County Shrine Club held its annual Past Presidents party Wednesday night at Blomquist's Island.

The weather cooperated and 100 Shriners were on hand for charcoal broiled steak with proper trimmings.

Present for the event were the following officers: Walter Streeter, Erie, Illustrious Potentate, Zem Zem Temple; John Oahu, Cochran Assistant Rabbani, Zem Zem; Al Levenhagen, Linesville, High Priest and Prophet, Zem Zem and J. Walter Fenner, Erie, Recorder Zem Zem.

Other dignitaries were Past Potentate W. E. Lutz, Warren, who was the first president of the club organized in 1937 and Carl E. Thomas, Union City, Past Potentate with other Shriners from surrounding areas.

Plans were discussed for the Summer Ceremonial to be held in Warren on Saturday, August 26, one of the biggest Shrine events of the year.

Latin-Americans Ask Israeli Pullout

(c) N.Y. Times News Service UNITED NATIONS—Eighteen Latin-American countries submitted to the General Assembly yesterday a draft resolution calling for withdrawal of Israeli forces from Arab territories and an end of the state of belligerency.

The draft also affirmed "the desirability of establishing an international regime for the city of Jerusalem" and urged security council action guaranteeing free transit through international waterways in the Middle East, political independence and the establishment of demilitarized zones.

The United States will support the Latin-American draft when it is voted upon in the emergency session of the assembly.

Meanwhile, the U.S. delegation is content to let a plan for a western draft, initiated by Denmark and at the outset supported by the U.S., Britain and Canada, "with the vine" as one diplomat said.

Two weeks of general debate and three days of intense consultations have thus produced two draft resolutions to be voted upon next week: yesterday's Latin-American draft and a resolution presented Wednesday by Yugoslavia in behalf of a group of so-called non-aligned states.

Earlier U.S., Soviet and Albanian resolutions, each outlining an extreme position, have been quietly put aside with no formal action in the assembly.

Ask Tougher Code For Tobacco Ads

(c) N. Y. Times Service WASHINGTON — The Federal Trade Commission asked Congress yesterday to enact legislation requiring a health warning in all cigarette advertisements on the ground that the cigarette industry has not lived up to its promises to police its own advertising.

Although "minor changes" have been made in cigarette advertisements since adoption of the industry's voluntary advertising code two years ago, the industry continues to aim its ads at young people, the commission said.

The average youngster in the 13 to 17 age group watches more television programs each week that are sponsored by the cigarette companies than the average adult does and the industry continues to use ads "that have special appeal to younger people," the commission said.

Since "the cigarette smoking habit is so difficult to break . . . people should be educated as to the health hazards before they reach the age when they are likely to begin smoking."

But "cigarette advertisements . . . have been successful in their subtle but effective attempts to persuade teenagers to smoke despite the known health hazards. To protect this group, the commission feels it imperative that adequate health warnings be included in all cigarette advertising."

Commissioner A. Everett MacIntyre said the commission had strayed far afield into educational and sociological matters in its report.

Commissioners Philip Elman and Mary Gardner Jones, on the other hand, said the commission should have recommended an outright ban on television advertising of cigarettes.

Elman, in addition, proposed extension of the advertising ban to radio, and said that the new "super-king sized" 100-millimeter cigarettes should be barred from sale in interstate commerce "as too dangerous for human consumption."

The entire commission, though not recommending prohibition of sales of the extra-long cigarettes, said they were more dangerous than shorter cigarettes.

The recent successful promotion of the 100-millimeter cigarettes is "serious and disturbing," the commission said.

Brown Raps Pirates At Meeting

PITTSBURGH (AP) — General Manager Joe Brown of the Pittsburgh Pirates, refusing to give Manager Harry Walker the usual vote of confidence, gave one instead to his players last night.

Brown called the Pirate players into a closed-door meeting with Walker and the coaches absent before Pittsburgh took the field to play Atlanta.

"In essence," Brown said, "What I told them was that if this club doesn't win the National League pennant, it's not that they're mismanaged, it's because they didn't want to pay the price to win."

Brown said he talked to the players for 15 minutes and told them Walker would be the Pirate manager for a long time.

Walker has been under harsh criticism in Pittsburgh lately because the Pirates, favored to win the National League pennant, had lost five straight games and dropped to sixth place.

"It was not a vote of confidence for Harry," Brown said. "I don't believe in a vote of confidence for the manager because in reality, it's a fake and doesn't work out."

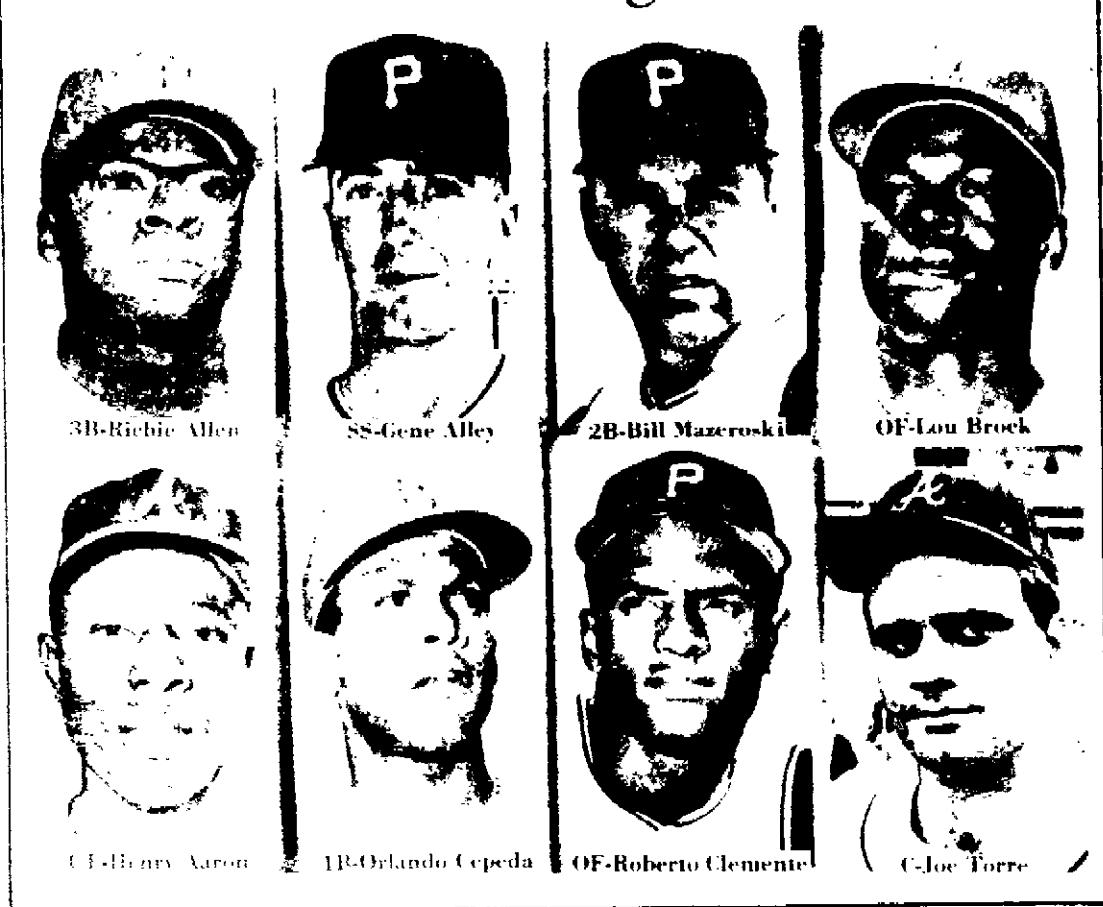

"I was giving a vote of confidence to the players because I thought we had the best 25 players in the National League."

"Stop worrying about whether you like Harry Walker," Brown said he told the players, "because you can find all kinds of faults. If you do the job, we can win the pennant."

"I'm sure many of you played for great fellows who weren't popular. I wished all of you liked the manager but that's the ideal."

"You have to do the job whether the conditions of your employment are exactly as you like them or not," Brown said he told the players.

1967 National League All-Stars

Three Vets, Five 'Rooks' On NL 'Star Mound Staff

CINCINNATI (AP) — Five of the pitchers Manager Walt Aiston picked for this year's All-Star game at Anaheim, Calif., are rookies—at least as far as the annual classic is concerned.

The Los Angeles Dodgers' pitcher named his eight-man pitching staff yesterday and is scheduled to announce the rest of his selections for the July 11 contest next Wednesday. These will include at least one Cincinnati player since no Reds have been named to the team so far.

Alston's selections were left-handers Claude Osteen of the Los Angeles Dodgers, Denny Lemaster of the Atlanta Braves and Mike Cuellar of the Houston Astros.

He also named five right-handers, including three veterans of All-Star game competition: Don Drysdale of the Dodgers, Juan Marichal of the San Francisco Giants and Bob Gibson of the St. Louis Cardinals. The other two right-handers are Fergie Jenkins of the Chicago Cubs and rookie Tom Seaver of the New York Mets.

Between them, the All-Star pitchers had won 67 games and lost 42 through Thursday night. Both Drysdale, 7-3, and Gibson, 9-6, were bombed just before their selection was announced.

Drysdale has worked in six previous All-Star games and has an 0-1 record and 1.88 earned run average for 14½ innings of work. Marichal, who has a 10-6 record this year, was selected to five previous All-Star games. He has an 1-0 record and an ERA of 0.82 for 11 innings of hurling.

Gibson will pitch in the All-Star game for the fourth time this year. He worked only four innings in his past appearances and has an ERA of 2.25.

Lemaster, 7-2, has the best record among the All-Star game rookies. Cuellar is 8-3, Jenkins 10-5, Osteen 10-7 and Seaver 6-5.

The way things are now, the American League team has only three right-handed hitters.

The National League team selected by players: Orlando Cepeda, St. Louis, first base; Bill Mazeroski, Pittsburgh, second base; Richie Allen, Philadelphia, third base; Gene Alley, Pittsburgh, shortstop; Roberto Clemente, Pittsburgh; Hank Aaron, Atlanta, and Lou Brock, St. Louis, outfielders, and Joe Torre, Atlanta, catcher.

MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL ROUNDUP:

Bucs Win One, Whip Braves, 3-1; Cubbies Make Reds Latest Victim

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pitcher Steve Blass rapped a two-out, two-run single in the eighth inning last night, lifting the slumping Pittsburgh Pirates to a 3-1 victory over Atlanta.

Blass, who pitched a five-hitter, delivered against reliever Clay Carroll.

Bill Mazeroski had doubled with one out and after Donn Clendenon was walked intentionally, Jose Pagan lined out. Then Rico Carty bobbled Jerry May's bounce, loading the bases and setting the stage for Blass' winning hit which ended a five-game losing streak for Pittsburgh.

The game was delayed twice by rain for a total of one hour, 43 minutes with the score tied at 1-1.

Pagan had singled Mazeroski across with Pittsburgh's first run in the fourth. Woody Woodward's triple delivered Denis Menke in the second for the Braves' only run.

The complete game by Blass was only the ninth in 71 games for the Pirates.

one out, Chuck Hinton walked and with two out, Davalillo singled to left field against loser Wally Bunker.

The Indians had tied the game in the ninth when Eddie Watt walked two men, forcing in a run, after Leon Wagner singled with one out and Alvis doubled off Moe Drabowsky.

Boog Powell had given the Orioles a 5-4 lead in the seventh when he doubled home Curt Blefary from first base.

Duke Sims homered in the top half of the inning for the first hit off Pete Richter since the first inning when the Indians scored three times, two on Tony Horton's double.

Blefary and Powell each drove in a run in the third for a 3-2 tie and Paul Blair singled in a fourth inning run.

The second game was cut short by a local curfew. The Orioles led 1-0 on Boog Powell's homer when play was suspended after five innings. The contest will be resumed in the sixth today, preceding the regularly scheduled game.

The complete game by Blass was only the ninth in 71 games for the Pirates.

Cubs-Reds

CHICAGO (AP) — Home runs by Billy Williams and Ron Santo propelled the high flying Chicago Cubs to a 7-5 victory over the Cincinnati Reds yesterday.

The triumph was the fourth straight and 11th in the last 12 games for the second place Cubs who finished in the National League cellar last year.

Bill Hands, who aided his own cause with a two-run single in the sixth, picked up his fourth victory in seven decisions but needed help in the seventh after hurling 6 1/3 hitless innings.

With one out in the seventh, Hands lost his no-hitter on a looping single to center by Tony Perez. A double by Deron Johnson and singles by Don Pavletich and Lee May chased Hands in favor of Cal Koonce after three runs were in.

The Cubs had runners on first and third with none out in the first two innings but each time starter Jim Maloney managed to get out of trouble without anyone crossing the plate.

In the fourth, however, Santo drew a walk and went to third on a single by Ernie Banks. Santo scored on Al Spangler's sacrifice fly, and Randy Hundley tripled Banks home. Ted Savage then backed away from a pitch but the ball hit his bat and Hundley scored while Savage was being tossed out.

Williams slammed his 14th homer with two out in the fifth. Hands' two-run single made it 6-0 in the sixth and Santo's 14th homer came with two out in the seventh.

The Cubs had runners on first and third with none out in the first two innings but each time starter Jim Maloney managed to get out of trouble without anyone crossing the plate.

In the fourth, however, Santo drew a walk and went to third on a single by Ernie Banks. Santo scored on Al Spangler's sacrifice fly, and Randy Hundley tripled Banks home. Ted Savage then backed away from a pitch but the ball hit his bat and Hundley scored while Savage was being tossed out.

Williams slammed his 14th homer with two out in the fifth. Hands' two-run single made it 6-0 in the sixth and Santo's 14th homer came with two out in the seventh.

fourth for the only Mets' run, but they had plenty of chances against Jaster, 5-3.

He stranded a man on second in the first, three runners in the second, two more in the third and two in the sixth.

Tigers-Chi Sox
DETROIT (AP) — Veteran Johnny Podres, with relief help from Mike Marshall, pitched the Detroit Tigers to a 4-1 victory over the league leading Chicago White Sox last night.

Podres, 2-0, a 34-year-old left-hander making his third start of the season, put the leadoff man on base three times in the first six innings without allowing a run.

But he got into trouble in the eighth when Don Buford and Dick Kenworthy hit consecutive singles with one out.

Marshall took over and gave up a run-scoring single to Tommy Agee before retiring the side.

Detroit jumped on White Sox' starter Tommy John, 6-5, for three runs in the first on a triple by Dick McAuliffe, a pair of walks, a passed ball, and a two-run double by Norm Cash.

The Tigers added another run in the third without a hit. Bill Freehan led off with a walk, took second on a wild pitch by John, went to third on an infield hit, and scored when John let Mickey Stanley's twisting dribbler get through him for an error.

Dodgers-Astros
HOUSTON (AP) — Pitcher Claude Osteen lined a home run into the right field seats leading off the ninth inning giving the Los Angeles Dodgers a 5-4 victory over Houston last night.

Osteen's smash off Don Wilson was his second of the season and gave him his 11th victory against seven losses. It broke a 4-4 tie that had lasted since the third inning.

Osteen left with one out and one in the ninth and Ron Peranowski got the last two.

Phils-Giants
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Chris Short, pitching for the first time since tearing a ligament in his left knee May 23, hurled the Philadelphia Phillies to a 10-3 victory over the San Francisco Giants last night in the first game of a two-night doubleheader.

The Giants took the second game of the twinnbill, 12-3 on a 19-hit attack.

Bo Sox-Athletics
KANSAS CITY (AP) — Tony Conigliaro's three-run homer and clutch relief pitching by John Wyatt carried Boston to a 5-3 victory over Kansas City last night.

Conigliaro's 430-foot shot landed in a parking lot beyond the left field fence in the sixth inning after Joe Foy had doubled and Carl Yastrzemski walked with two out.

George Scott accounted for Boston's first run with a solo homer in the fifth against loser Jim Nash, who also allowed Conigliaro's 10th shot an inning later.

Senators-Twins
Are 'Blown Out'
ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Last night's baseball game between the Washington Senators and Minnesota Twins was postponed after a wind and rain storm apparently ripped off a small section of the roof at Metropolitan Stadium and sent fans into a near state of panic.

Time was called as a driving rain that reduced visibility to 100 feet sent the estimated 15,000 spectators racing for any cover they could find, fearing a tornado was about to strike the stadium. A few clamored into the press box.

No tornado funnel was spotted in the darkness as the stadium lights went out, but the deafening roar of the wind led many to believe a tornado had passed over the semipalm stadium.

Play was suspended with two out in the last of the first inning after Minnesota had taken a 1-0 lead on Tony Oliva's run scoring double.

CONEWANGO NAVY IS DEPLOYED

This is the first convoy of the Coney Island Navy to go on station this summer. They were launched Wednesday by Town Crier Les Rickey, WNAE newsman Larry Hamilton, and Butch Wise, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harlan G. Wise of 33 Crestview Blvd. There are 16 more ducks sitting in drydock at Sellin's Hatchery in Russell, awaiting the day when their feathers sprout. Glen Rudolph of the borough parks department said yesterday the newly purchased ducks have a bank account of $270 which will feed them and provide lodging during the winter months. The new fleet, a combination of roans and half-breed mallards, were provided through funds from an anonymous donor and the Warren Area Development Association. (Photo by Mansfield)

FOR VIETNAM ACTION

Warren County Soldier Receives Bronze Star

The President of the United States has awarded the Bronze Star Medal to a Warren County man, Staff Sgt. E. E. William E. Eaton, U.S. Army, for outstanding meritorious service during the period July 1966 to June 1967.

The award was made in connection with ground operations against a hostile force in the Republic of Vietnam. The citation states that through Eaton's untiring efforts and professional ability he consistently obtained results.

"He was quick to grasp implications of new problems with which he was faced as result of ever-changing situations inherent in a counterinsurgency operation."

"The energetic application of his extensive knowledge has materially contributed to the overall effort of the United States in Vietnam. He was a motivating example to all with whom he came in contact. His devotion to duty, loyalty and meticulous attention to detail are in keeping with the finest tradition of the United States Army and reflect great credit upon himself, his unit the 25th Inf. Division and the military service.

Sgt. Eaton's wife, Vonnle, and two sons reside in Sheffield. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Earl Eaton of Clarendon.

Information Centers

The Governor's Committee of 100,000 Pennsylvanians has purchased four new cottage-type house trailers to replace the three old trailers previously used as tourist information centers on the Pennsylvania Turnpike. The centers, familiar to many area travelers, opened on Memorial Day and will remain open through Labor Day. The Department of Commerce is considering a plan to keep the centers open through the winter ski season. Centers will be located at Zionsville, Nesheim, Valley Forge and Bedford. Last year the trailer staffs handled 259,272 inquiries.

Japan Foresters Hold Slide Show

More than 100 people viewed color slides and moving pictures Thursday evening at the Y.W.C.A. presented for the people of the Warren area by the 11-man extension forestry team from Japan, here on a study tour.

The visitors from Japan are looking forward to participating in Warren County's annual Independence Day celebration, with its July 4th parade and other community activities.

Elwood L. Demmon, technical leader, for many years with the U.S. Forest Service before retirement, introduced the 11 members of the team. The group has financed its own tour of the United States.

Group leader Chubei Hara of Tokyo, through an interpreter, expressed pleasure at the warm welcome they have all found among the people of the Warren County area.

Many of the group are actively engaged in management of their own or their family's private forests. A number held degrees in forestry, economics, agriculture and other fields. All are officers in local and prefectural branches of the Confederation of Forestry Research Groups. Yashisumi Fukumori, for example, manages his own forest and served as chief, National Confederation for Forestry Research Group, and Oita Prefectural Confederation for Forestry Research Group.

Beginning Monday, they are guests of the U.S. Forest Service on the Allegheny National Forest. Their hosts are Forest Supervisor Leroy K. Kelley and Paul W. Sundheimer, timber and wild life management specialist.

'Subject Was Roses' Still On at Plowright

Tonight or tomorrow at 8:30 p. m. would be ideal times to catch "The Subject Was Roses" at the new Plowright Playhouse summer theater.

The cast features Lois Byham, Alfred Hilse and Joe Nicolini in a Pulitzer prize winning play by Frank Gilroy. William Colgrove is the director.

Although reservations are recommended, those attending without calling 757-3252 ahead of time will undoubtedly be seated.

The production continues nightly through July 9 except for Monday and Tuesday.

It's a pleasant 10 mile drive north of Warren on Scandia road with the play presented in a rustic but comfortable barn.

Cited in Corry

A Tidouste man, Anthony Campiano, 27, was cited in Corry Wednesday for driving the wrong way on E. South St. where traffic is one way to the west. Information on the charge was filed with Alderman Merle Ottaway.

Meter Receipts

The parking meter receipts increased somewhat this week. Borough police collected $533.70 from on-street facilities and $212.62 from municipal parking lots.

WARREN TIMES-MIRROR AND OBSERVER

WARREN, PA., SATURDAY, JULY 1, 1967

SUPPORT BRADFORD FACILITY

Industry, Businesses Concerned With Airport

BY FRANKLIN HOFF

How disturbed Warren County industrial and retail interests are over recent developments in the Warren County Commissioners' office concerning Bradford airport improvement plans, is indicated by current action of the board of directors of the Warren Chamber of Commerce.

The board has unanimously confirmed action by its executive committee urging full participation of Warren County in this project, approved by the federal government.

It is the consensus of the Chamber board that the few thousand dollars a year required as Warren County's fair share of supporting this project is one of the biggest bargains of the century.

Some chamber members report that recent explorations in Chautauque County, N.Y., to the north of possible future merging of crumpled Jamestown airport and Fredonia airport into a single county facility has brought forth estimates that vary from two million dollars to more than three million dollars that would have to be raised in that county for the first stages of such an undertaking. This is a far cry from the almost $10,000-a-year for five years from Warren County toward developing the Bradford Regional Airport.

Colonel Henry C. Kerlin, executive director of the Chamber, was directed to poll the membership on this issue. Officers also urged publication of amounts of payrolls, (both industry and retail) for the county to emphasize how small the Warren County share in the Bradford airport development is by contrast.

He gives total 1966 payroll for industrial concerns of Warren County as $43,500,000. Adding retail payrolls of $9,085,000 makes a total of $52,585,000.

Kerlin made a random spot check of 10 representative downtown Warren retail merchants, ranging from smallest to largest. These ten indicated they pay out taxes annually totaling $33,640. Fifteen representative industries likewise, small and large, pay $395,000 annually in taxes. There are 40 other industrial concerns in Warren County not included in this figure.

What concerns industrial and retail executives in Warren County is that Warren already has great disadvantages over many other areas in transportation, Kerlin reminds, through lack of rail and highway facilities. "Only convenient way to get both people and freight into and out of Warren County is by air," he declares.

Abe Schwartz, retail division chairman of Warren Area Chamber of Commerce, prepared a report for that group. It emphasizes necessity of air transport as best means of getting goods and services in order to compete with other areas. He cites fact that in one month more than 29,000 pounds of merchandise shipments were carried through Bradford airport. This is growing constantly.

"To hamper flow of goods and services in and out of our isolated area by not contributing to improvement of this phase of transportation would seriously affect Warren retailers, who do more than $50,000,000 in annual sales, and pay more than $9,000,000 in local wages — in addition to taxes," says Schwartz.

"The small investment Warren County is asked to share to improve the Bradford airport over the next five years," he states further, "is a mere pittance compared to hundreds of millions of dollars of invested commercial and industrial capital, plus similar amounts in dollar sales, taxes and salaries involved in Warren County. "Any short-sighted approach to Bradford airport improvement plans would seriously hinder the commercial and industrial community of Warren County, and eventually increase the tax burden, if industry should be compelled to move to other locations that offer superior air and other transportation facilities," Schwartz adds in his report.

Clarion Breaking Ground For New Holiday Inn Motel

CLARION — Groundbreaking for the 100-unit Holiday Inn of Clarion is expected soon with a contemplated completion date of May 1, 1968.

The new Holiday Inn will be located on Route 68 at the intersection of 68 and Interstate 80 on the northeast corner about one and a half miles from Clarion.

When the new Inn opens it will provide the public with 100 modern, finely furnished rooms, Camelot dining room seating 150 persons, the unique Pub Room which will have nightly entertainment and the Heritage room to accommodate 300 people for banquets, wedding receptions and the like.

The facility will also contain a conference room for 50 that can be utilized for business meetings and executive conferences. The latter can be divided into two smaller rooms for other functions.

The Holiday Inn, one of more than 850 Inns in the United States, Canada, Puerto Rico and the Bahamas will have a large heated swimming pool, be completely air conditioned and have television in every room.

The new motel at Clarion will employ between 40 and 60 persons. The two-story Holiday Inn was designed by Thomas Donald of Greensburg.

Veteran Legislator Has Birthday Monday

... 86 on Monday

Dr. LeRoy E. Chapman observes his 86th birthday Monday. A former state senator and veteran legislator, Dr. Chapman was born in Warren on July 3, 1881. While in Harrisburg he headed the all-important appropriations committee and succeeded in getting funds essential to both Warren and Venango Counties whom he represented, including the appropriation for Chapman Dam State Park named for the venerable gentleman. His host of friends and patients extend best wishes.

IT WAS 7 TABLES OF THE MITCHELL MOVEMENT at the Woman's Club weekly Bridge session on Thursday. The average score was 63, and here's how the honors went—North: 1st Mrs. Harry Hendrickson and Mrs. Eric Wilkinson, 72; 2nd, Mrs. Hazel Shaw and Mrs. Pat Shaw, 71; a tie for 3rd and 4th, Mrs. Carl Hultberg and Mrs. Richard Stahlman, Mrs. Shirl Glass and Mrs. Arthur DeLuca, 69. East-West honors were 1st Mrs. J. Theo Valone and Mrs. Gaston Hamilton, 79½; 2nd Mrs. Franklyn Oakley and Mrs. George Sarvis, 73½; 3rd Mrs. James R. Valone and Miss Frances Schimmelfeng, 72; 4th Miss Mildred Blair and Mrs. Melvin Keller, 69. Next Thursday the Bridge players will meet at the home of Mrs. J. Theo Valone, 504 Market street, at 1 o'clock, and for the remainder of the summer the group will meet at the homes of the players. Come Autumn, once again the Woman's Club will be the place of their gathering.

MR. AND MRS. GILBERT T. HARRISON of 617 Beech street, are leaving from the Jamestown Airport for Cleveland, Ohio, today. There they will board one of the sleek jets of American Airlines, bound for Sepulveda, California, and a month's vacation with their daughter, Mrs. William VanTassel, and their grandson, Tommy. In September the VanTassels will join their husband and father in Tokyo, Japan, where they expect to remain for the next two years. Mr. VanTassel, an accountant, is there in business for his firm which engages in construction work.

MINIATURES: Dr. and Mrs. Robert B. Williams, former Warrenites, recently visited in the vicinity. Dr. Williams is associate professor of education at Montclair State College, in New Jersey. Mrs. Williams is the daughter of the G. Gifford Smiths of Holmes Beach, Florida.

And, then there was that misleading, in fact positively wrong headline, under Genevieve McMahon's picture yesterday. The Women of the Moose were honoring her for being a member since 1922—Forty-five years of faithful membership.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a mother who is burned up about something and I would like you to print my letter and your answer before school starts next fall.

We send our sons to school to become educated—not to learn how to climb ropes, be wrestlers or build muscles so they can pose for male magazines. Also, we do not send our girls to school to take showers in front of 50 other girls.

So why is physical education compulsory in our public school system which is supported by taxpayers? A student cannot get his high school diploma unless he has had four years of gym. I call this a dictatorship, not a land of freedom. If some parents want their kids to train to be monkeys that's their business, but why must this sort of nonsense be forced on everyone? — A READER

DEAR READER: If you knew the physical condition of most of the teen-agers in this country you'd be shocked, Lady. A country whose living standard is the highest in the world should hide its head in shame when over 40 per cent of its young men are rejected for military service because they cannot meet the physical requirements. If high school gym were not mandatory, some of our kids would get virtually NO exercise. One of the curses of our push-button affluent society is that people ride instead of walk and everything is motorized and mechanized. This is one reason so many young executives drop dead from heart attacks.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My problem is a brother and sister-in-law. They lost a child in an accident three years ago. The whole family has bent over backwards to be kind to them. We have invited this couple to our home for dinner every other Sunday since the tragedy and they have accepted every invitation. Yet they have not asked us to have a meal in their home even once.

My husband says he is fed up on this one-sided relationship and we should not invite them again until they invite us to their place. What do you say? — D.O.D.

DEAR D: According to my figures, your brother and his wife have had approximately 75 Sunday dinners in your home. This is a lot of chicken, no matter how you slice it. Your husband has a legitimate complaint and you should respect his wishes.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Whose place is it to take care of an aging mother who can no longer take care of herself? Does the responsibility fall on the daughters of the family or the sons? We have had endless discussions about this but we cannot come to any reasonable conclusions. Will you help us, please. — NEEDING ANSWERS

DEAR NEEDING: A mother takes care of ALL her children, doesn't she? Whether they are boys or girls does not seem to matter to her. So why are you having such difficulty in deciding who should take care of her?

If she is incapacitated and needs hospital care, all the children should share in the financial responsibility according to their ability. If it's a matter of making her home with one of the children, she would probably be the best judge of where she would be happiest.

Unsure of yourself on dates? What's right? What's wrong? Should you? Shouldn't you? Send for Ann Landers' booklet "Dating Do's and Don'ts," enclosing with your request 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

These easy care permanent press separates are from the fall Ciderella collection. The brass button coat style jumper and umbrella shirt is of 50" Fortrel, 50" cotton twill. A multi-colored cotton knit shirt adds mix 'n match accents. Available at the Infanteen Shop.

Hubbard-Nollinger Nuptials Solemnized in North East

Shirley Mae Hubbard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Hubbard of 16 Loomis street, Ripley, N.Y., and Richard Harold Nollinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Nollinger of 163 Crestview blvd., Warren, were recently united in marriage. The Rev. Lincoln Pyle performed the double ring, candlelight evening ceremony in the North East Church of God.

Baskets of roses, gladioli and chrysanthemums, all in white, ornamented the altar, the lighted tapers were placed in candelabra. Elizabeth Byrtus was the organist, and Herbert Young was the vocalist.

Escorted down the church aisle by her father, the bride approached the altar in a gown of white bridal lace styled with scalloped neckline, saxon sleeves, empire waistline and A-line skirt. A Watteau train fell in graceful folds from the shoulders. Her bouffant veil of illusion depended from a double lace crown of pearls and aurora borealis. She carried an arrangement of cymbidium orchids with pink sweetheart roses atop a white satin covered Bible.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Alice Brown in a sheath of blue and white and wearing a double crown of blue securing a brief veil. She carried a basket of roses, snapdragons and daisies. Ginger York, a friend of the bride, wore pink and white and matching headpiece and veil. She carried the same kind of flowers as the honor attendant. The Junior bridesmaid, Cristle Hubbard, sister of the bride, wore green and white with matching crown, and also carried identical flowers. Mistress Melanie Hubbard, sister of the bride, was the flower girl in yellow and white, and also carried roses, snapdragons and daisies.

Earl Nollinger of Mercer was the best man for his brother; Bob Musante of Warren was an usher with Deryl Hubbard, brother of the bride, and David Genberg, brother-in-law of the groom. The junior usher, cousin of the groom, was Stephen Barber.

The mother of the bride chose a two-piece ensemble of blue with pink accessories and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses. The mother of the groom was in a two-piece costume of green with white accessories and a yellow sweetheart rose corsage.

A reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church, with two hundred in attendance. Decorations were carried out in a rainbow theme with streamers and arrangements of flowers. Hostess was Mrs. Fred Seeley, aunt of the bride. Aides were Miss Sally Young, Miss Lana Mann, Mrs. David Bagley, Miss Barbara McIntosh.

For a wedding trip through the South and West Virginia, the new Mrs. Nollinger wore a beige and navy dress with navy coat and beige accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Nollinger are now residing at Weavers Trailer Court, North East, Penna.

The bride, a graduate of the Ripley, N.Y., high school, is employed at Hays Manufacturing in Erie.

The kiltie dress as styled by Cinderella in heathery fall tones has a soft white rolled collar and cuffs added for a perky touch. Also available at the Infanteen Shop.

Young Ladies' School Fashions For Autumn Announced

Color and texture light up the Fall Fashion scene for '67. The brightest, most beautiful array of color ever with texture taking on new dimensions.

From spring's brightness, color now deepens into rich hues. Outstanding are the earthy brown, red copper, orange, gold and bronze tones. Far Eastern colors, fuchsia, rose, hot pink and rich purple are also prominent.

Making big fashion news are knits. Patterned in dazzling stripes, prints, geometrics and checkerboards, the flat mat jerseys, bonded textured twills and lacy crochet knits are given a fresh new look.

Permanent press fabrics in polyester and cotton blends eliminate ironing and are the answer to many "keep neat" problems. Done in gay prints, bright solids and colorful plaids, they provide a great selection for school and party time.

The menswear look in glen plaids, chalk stripes, district checks and pin stripes are among the wanted fashion fabrics.

Corduroy in various widths in stripes or prints are notable. Rayon-acetate blends offer vivid colors and shiny textures for dress-up along with dacron and cotton voile for party time.

Prints are "in" for fall bigger and better than ever. Geometric prints abound, stripes, chevrons, tattersalls, window panes, paisleys and exotic florals are but a few of fall's print explosions.

There is something for everyone in silhouette news for fall. First, the return of the belt. Belts are used in many ways: high up, low down, or right at the waist. There is the free flowing tent as well as closer to the body "fit n' flare" lines and the old familiar trim and slim look still remains strong.

Pantdresses, very much a part of today's fashion, are found in a bevy of fabrics from cotton poplins to velvet. Some with their own matching shortie pants, some all in one zipping down the front for easy wearability.

Side closing, ball buttons, raglan sleeves, long shirt sleeves, vests, simulated kilts and a myriad of pleats make for motionful skirts and are but a few important fashion features that will make this fall a stand-out.

On June 19, the Methodist Youth Fellowship of First Methodist Church departed for a weeks adventure in New York State and Canada. With the forty youths were six chaperons, The Rev. and Mrs. James Cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Skinner, Mrs. Michael Van Tassel and Miss Sally Thoma.

The first stop was at Buffalo, N.Y. where the group visited several churches of the Inner City Methodist Ministry of Buffalo. In Rochester the group learned about some of New York State's migrant workers. After a tour of Syracuse University, they proceeded to St. Regis Indian Reservation near Massena.

The climax of the trip occurred when the group reached "Expo 67". Great Britain, Russia, France, Germany, Czechoslovakia, Christian and U.S. pavilions were just a few they visited. After two complete days at the fair the group headed for home with a stop in Hamilton, Ontario and Niagara Falls, arriving in Warren on June 24th.

Ex-Nun's Estimate

NEW YORK (AP) — The Belgian "singing nun," who left her convent to concentrate on recording spiritual folk songs, adds her own touch to "Beatle" John Lennon's controversial remark about his group being more popular than Jesus.

"General de Gaulle is better known than Christ in the world," Jeanine Deckers says in a McCall's magazine interview. The former Sister Sourire adds, "I may not feel this is right, but it is certainly undeniable."

O'Connor - Pasquino Wedding Held in Cambridge Springs

Mr. and Mrs. Richard O'Connor, Box 118, Venango, announce the marriage of their daughter, Cynthia Diane, to Joseph D. Pasquino, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pasquino of 22 Conewango ave., Warren. The couple exchanged wedding vows on Saturday, June 10, at 11 a.m. in a double-ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Fr. S.J. Dobosiewicz, pastor, at St. Anthony's Roman Catholic Church in Cambridge Springs. Vases of white gladioli and white mums were on the altar of the church. Wedding music was by Mrs. Felix DeSensia, organist, and Mrs. Stanley Right, vocalist.

Miss Karen O'Connor of Venango served as maid of honor for her sister and Bill Pasquino of Warren, served his brother as best man. Bridesmaids were Miss Cheryl Wisneski and Mrs. Donald Nuss, both of Cambridge Springs; Mrs. Dennis DeVore of Meadville, Miss Cassie Tepic of Industry and Miss Carolyn O'Connor of Cleveland, Ohio, cousin of the bride, and Ann Barone of Warren served as flower girls and Gordon O'Connor of Jamestown, N.Y., and Frankie Barone of Warren were ring bearers. Serving as ushers were Mike O'Connor of Venango, Charles Barone of Warren, Lonnie Antill of Brunswick, Ohio, James Sillano and Pat Harnett, both of Warren.

Escorted by her father, the bride was attired in a floor-length French crepe gown made with empire waistline and short sleeves with Chantilly lace insets in rose design. A matching French crepe detachable train was attached at the shoulders. The train was accented with wide borders of the lace in rose design. Her shoulder-length French illusion veil depended from a lace and iridescent-pearl crown. She carried a single long-stemmed red rose.

Gowns worn by her attendants were of peau de soie with floor-length A-line skirts, empire waistlines, long chiffon sleeves, and flower trim at the waistlines and wrists. They wore Dior bows with veils and each carried a single long-stemmed pink rose. The maid of honor's gown was in a deep pink shade and the bridesmaids were dressed like her, only in lighter pink.

White dacron dotted Swiss floor-length gowns with empire waistlines and pink streamers to the floor were worn by the flower girls. They wore pink rosebud crowns and carried white wicker baskets filled with flowers.

Mrs. O'Connor chose a deep-pink crepe sheath dress with matching lace coat and accessories for her daughter's wedding. Her corsage was of pink roses. The groom's mother wore a light green crepe dress with lace jacket and white accessories and corsage of white roses with green accents.

Aides at the reception which followed at the Venango Volunteer Fire Department hall were Mrs. Charles Barone, Mrs. Tom Hughes, Mrs. Mary Lou Antill, Mrs. Harold Manross and Miss Barbara O'Connor, a cousin of the bride, who registered guests.

A rehearsal dinner was held Friday evening at the Venango Hotel with the parents of the groom as host and hostess. Other pre-nuptial parties included showers given by the groom's mother, grandmother and aunts and a shower given by Mrs. Nuss and Mrs. DeVore.

Mr. and Mrs. Pasquino will reside at 113 Jefferson st., Warren, when they return from a wedding trip to the southern states. She is a graduate of Cambridge Springs High School and is employed at El-Tronics Sales Plant while attending Edinboro State College off campus at Warren. The groom, a graduate of Warren High School, attended Edinboro State College and served two years in the U.S. Army. He is employed in the personnel department at Allegheny Forest.

MONDAY

BASEBALL — NBC Major League baseball game at 7 p.m. on Chs. 2, 6 and 12 pits the San Francisco Giants vs. the New York Mets, in the latter's Shea Stadium.

Terminology Tip

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A Greek word now in common Christian usage, "diakonia," means service to others. The Rev. Arthur J. Seegers, a Lutheran executive here, notes that the word stems from "diakonos" or servant, as used by Jesus when he said: "Whoever would be great among you must be your servant (diakonos), and whoever would be first among you must be the slave (duolos) of all."

The New Beat

DALLAS (AP) — Churches should make use of "all the sources of music, both traditional and contemporary," says the Methodist Commission on Worship.

Its chairman, Bishop Lance Webb of Springfield, Ill., said this includes jazz, folk music, guitars, drums, trumpets and other wind and string instruments, in addition to the traditional organ and piano.

DRAGNET STARS

Harry Morgan (left) as Officer Gannon and Jack Webb as Sgt. Friday are seen in "The Hit-and-Run Driver" on "Dragnet 1967," NBC Television Network color series, Thursday, July 13 (9:30-10 p.m., NYT). They have a drawing made of a hit-and-run driver from descriptions by eyewitnesses.

Jamesway Site of Flea Market Today

Jamesway shopping plaza will be the site of a flea market today, with parking spaces made available to all organizations wishing to hold rummage sales, sell tickets, or set up displays.

Jamesway store is making the space available without charge.

Flea markets, at which anything can be bought from antiques to modern art, are a Parisian concept. The idea was used earlier this year by Warren Summer Theatre.

The Jamesway lot flea market will be operating from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m.

BELL TOWER HAS NEW CHIMES

Chautauqua Visitors Will Hear New Sound

CHAUTAUQUA — Vacationers at this famous summer resort on Chautauqua Lake will enjoy many recent additions and improvements during the new season now open.

The Miller Bell Tower, a classical Italian campanile which has chimed the hour over Lake Chautauqua since 1927, will have a new sound this year. Four notes have been added bringing the total number of bells to 14. The manually-operated electrical console has been completely rewired. The four-faced clock of the bell tower, once operated with wooden weights, has been electrified and a Westminster chime added to ring the quarter hour.

The new bells have been given by members of the family of Lewis Miller, Akron business man who in 1874 founded Chautauqua with Bishop John Heyl

Vincent, also of Akron. The bells will be dedicated to the descendants of Lewis Miller in ceremonies at the bell tower on Sunday, July 2, at 4:15 p.m. The Westminster chimes are the gift of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Follansbee of Pittsburgh, Pa., in honor of Mrs. Follansbee's mother, Mrs. Caroline R. Barnum of Minneapolis. Members of the Miller family who will be present at the dedication include Mrs. Margaret Miller Newman of Akron, O. and Mayville, N.Y., and Mrs. Edward Arun, Louisville, Ky.

Heads Juilliard Drama

NEW YORK (AP) — Michel Saint-Denis, a leading European theater authority, has been appointed codirector with John Houseman of the new Drama Division of Juilliard School. Houseman said Saint-Denis has been a consultant since 1950 on preparations for the project which is to begin classes in the fall of 1968. The 70-year-old Frenchman has served as actor, author, director and producer with a number of dramatic organizations and formerly headed the International Theater Institute.

WEEK'S PREVIEW

If we could have balmy summer evenings (without bugs) we probably would never be aware of television's seasonal dullness. Both ABC and NBC have a timely special scheduled for next week. NBC's is "The Loyal Opposition," an assessment of the National Republican Party one year prior to the 1968 convention for nomination of the Presidential candidate, scheduled for Wednesday night while ABC brings a probing of the Negro's plight when he leaves the South seeking better living conditions in the North. This one comes Thursday night.
CBS has no special listed but premieres three summer replacements to add a touch of variety. They are "Our Place," a music-comedy series Sunday night; "Vacation Playhouse," half-hour comedy-drama series Monday nights; and "Spotlight," one-hour comedy-variety series on Tuesday nights. Channel 4 also begins its summer series "University of Buffalo Medical Round Table" on Saturday evening.
There are two golf tournaments this weekend for the sports-minded, the Canadian Open on Saturday and Sunday afternoons and the Women's Open Golf Tournament on Sunday. There's baseball Saturday afternoon and Monday evening, the Le Mans Grand Prix on ABC's World of Sports Saturday, professional soccer on Sunday, and the Riverside Grand Prix Sunday afternoon.
SEASON PEERS
CBS introduces a new full-hour Western drama series, "Dundee and the Culhane," scheduled for Wednesday nights at 10 o'clock. Starring are John Mills and Sean Garrison. Mills, a distinguished British actor, plays Dundee, a shrewd lawyer who travels the West accepting legal assignments in the interests of serving justice. Garrison plays the Culhane, Dundee's traveling companion and possessor of the muscle to back up the lawyer.
The Danny Thomas Show will come at 9-10 p.m. Mondays on the NBC network. This stars Danny Thomas in a weekly entertainment hour of flexible format to include comedy, drama, and major specials like "Wonderful World of Burlesque" theme.
TV'S WORLD OF PROBLEMS
The Fairness Doctrine some what overshadows the CATV controversy in current FCC ghettos.
FRIDAY
WILD WEST at 7:30 p.m. on Chs. 4, 35, and 10 has agents West and Gordon being summoned to a meeting of top Navy officers, only to discover they have all been murdered.
MAN FROM UNCLE at 8:30 p.m. on Chs. 2, 6, 11, and 12 repeats "The Man in Rome Affair," with guest stars Julie Sommars and Cesare Danova. In Rome, Napoleon and Nika search for a secret formula that is hidden in a perfume atomizer belonging to an unsuspecting American tourist.
FRIDAY NIGHT MOVIES at 9 p.m. on Chs. 4, 35, and 10 screens "By Love Possessed," starring Lana Turner, Efrem Zimbalist Jr., George Hamilton and Susan Kohner. It's about a wealthy attorney's search for himself during a few shock-filled days as his whole life seems to tumble around him.

considerations. It all began when the Federal Communications commission applied the or equal time ruling to cigarette advertising, i.e., a station must provide available time for programming which counters the pro-smoking messages of its cigarette commercials. The American Heart Association and the American Cancer Society are taking advantage of the court-supported ruling in their messages to fight lung and heart diseases.
But the ruling has spread beyond the original target of cigarette advertising. Now, for example, the WCTU is asking the FCC to extend the fairness doctrine to wine and beer advertising. New Orleans District Attorney Jim Garrison seeks equal time to reply to NBC-TV's recent program, "The J.F.K. Conspiracy. The Case of Jim Garrison." And on a somewhat facetious note, the National Committee to Save Face wants time equal to that accorded razor-blade advertising on the grounds that shaving is "self-inflicted torture that can only lead to an unhealthy skin condition and dire psychological consequences."
The issue has serious implications. The ruling could be applied to encompass virtually any advertised product.
This is the concern of the broadcasting industry. How far is this trend going and what effect will it have on advertising revenues? And, for the viewer, the matter also is of vital importance.
Let's face it, even though we are annoyed and frequently disgusted with much of the commercials, it is this advertising that finances the programs we watch. And let us not forget who actually pays for TV and radio advertising. The costs are passed on to the consumer and included in the price of the product he buys.
Perhaps the public television network, and all commercial messages, will be strengthened by the enforcement of anti-embarrassment FCC fairness doctrine. But, again remember, the public television network will be partially subsidized by the government and you know where the government money comes from.
The average viewer has no conception of the many-sided problems constantly confronting the broadcasting industry. But they are there and the industry must cope with them, as must the FCC in its role of watching over the nation's communications systems.
This past week, the National Community Television Association, representing the CATV industry of 1,765 systems serving three million people, met in Chicago to consider copyright laws, the steady incursions into CATV by telephone companies, and the FCC itself in a range of issues from the question of jurisdiction to the matter of broadcaster-CATV ownership. Included at the meeting was an extensive display of new products and CATV equipment.
Also, the Board of the National Association of Broadcasters met in Williamsburg, Va., the major item on the agenda being the fairness doctrine which NAB may take to the Supreme Court. Another problem facing NAB is revision of its TV code in respect to time standards, placement, cluttering, clustering, and interruptions where commercials are concerned.
Another problem facing the entire broadcasting industry is its dwindling manpower. It is estimated that about 25 per cent of the current work force will have been defeated by the first of the year. This especially applies to the executive level.

This recent item is of special interest to the writer. A major drug company has received a Federal Trade Commission blanket order against all its drug products advertising which, according to FTC investigations, involves allegedly false and misleading therapeutic claims and distortion of clinical tests in its commercials. This is fine and we certainly have no argument against such policing. But why concentrate on one drug manufacturer when the TV commercial scene is loaded with just such violations?
PEOPLE & PROGRAMS
BOB NEWHART will host the Tonight Show from July 10 through July 28 while Johnny Carson is on vacation.
38TH MAJOR LEAGUE ALL-STAR BASEBALL GAME, the summer classic that pits a team of National League stars against a team from the American League, will be telecast by NBC-TV on Tuesday, July 11, at 7 p.m.
EXPO 67 in three half-hour color programs will be televised on Ch. 7 during the first half of the ARCTV Summer Focus hour on Thursday nights, July 13, 20, and 27, at 10 p.m. The second half of the hour period will consist of conversations with Sammy Davis Jr., Jerry Lewis, and Jack Benny.
ASTROJET GOLF CLASSIC, featuring the country's top professional football and baseball players, will be seen Sunday, July 9, at 4-5 p.m. on Ch. 7. The tournament will be played at La Costa Country Club in Carlsbad, Calif.
BRITISH OPEN GOLF TOURNAMENT will be televised by ABC-TV on Friday evening, July 14, at 7:30-8 p.m. and on Saturday, July 15, at 10:30 a.m. to 12 noon and 3:30-4:30 p.m.
ROWAN AND MARTIN'S LAUGH-IN is the title of a full-hour "sneak preview" comedy special to be on NBC-TV Sat., Sept. 9 at 9 p.m. The unusual program format will involve comedy and a variety of guest talent.
SUMMER SAMPLER is a new series of cultural programs starting tomorrow evening on WFSX-TV, Ch. 3. The series of 18 programs will be made up of outstanding one-hour cultural programs, the first one being "Berkeley Folk Festival."
ERNEST BORGNINE, of McTale's Navy fame, may be starred in a series titled "Milly and the Kid," featuring 12-year-old Frankie Michaels.
OUR WORLD, the five-continent-spanning satellite telecast scheduled for last Sunday, June 25, was postponed "in view of the world situation" and the objections of the Communist bloc participants.
Locale of Christ
NEW YORK (AP) — "A person cannot meditate on God 'up there' unless he is functioning," says the Rev. Malcolm Boyd. "Nor should he restrict his meditating to a concern with Jesus 'back there.'"
In a new book, "Free To Live, Free To Die," issued by Holt, Rinehart and Winston, the Episcopal priest says the authentic Christian "must become involved, as Jesus is, with all of human life and his fellow men, here, now."

Radio Sermon Scheduled to Discuss Drugs

The local congregation of the First Church of Christ, the Scientist, calls attention to a broadcast over Radio Stations WNAE-WRRN-FM tomorrow morning at 9:30, a dialogue on "Students and Drugs."

The broadcast is part of a continuing series "The Bible Speaks to You," heard regularly over the local radio station.

Robert Pool, author and editorial consultant of the Christian Science Church, says drug-taking needs to be looked at in broader focus — in terms of basic issues involved. The question he proposes is whether drugs deal with symptoms or with causes.

What about LSD? Some say LSD gave them deep religious experience. They raise the questions: Can religion be reduced to chemistry? Are things like intelligence and love, patience and courage, generosity, honesty merely a matter of chemistry? Or are they qualities of mind and spirit, which must come from a different source?

These are some of the matters which will be discussed in tomorrow's radio dialogue.

WHO CAN TELL?

DENVER (AP) — A cruiser policeman radioed other officers to watch for a car full of boys "with long hair."

Police dispatcher "Was there a girl in the car?" Policeman "It was hard to tell."

TMO Newsboys Visit Midway Park

The annual Carriers' Picnic sponsored by the Warren Times-Mirror Observer was held Tuesday at Midway Park. All rides and refreshments were furnished without charge to the 130 newsboys. The carrier boys from Warren, Warren County, Frewsburg, Pickering, and Ludlow, boarded two buses and left at 1 p.m.

Among the afternoon's entertainments were the miniature golf course, go-carts, the ferris wheel, the Whirlybird flying-swings, the tilt-a-whirl, and, of course, the penny arcade. As evidenced by several of these photos, one of the major pleasures was eating! The boys, accompanied by TMO employees, John Clark, Dick Swick and Rick Lyle, returned at 8 p.m.

Needless to say, being a newspaper boy is not all "fun and games." These boys, all 12 years old or over, get a first-hand education in hard work all year round. Having papers delivered no later than 7 a.m. is only part of the picture. Learning to get along with different kinds of people, gaining a respect for the value and handling of money, displaying a sense of responsibility—these are all part of the learn-while-you-work job of being a newsboy.

Sylvania Parts Division yesterday honored the engineers behind a new eight-channel stereo tape player being produced at the local plant. Viewing the sound equipment are (seated, left to right): Carlton G. Jenkins, equipment designer; John Robert Pelic, R and D engineer; Clayton L. Stoldt, electronic technician; and Nikolaus Steverenzyl, technical associate. Present

Sylvania Honors Four Engineers

Four Sylvania employees were honored yesterday by the company for their inventions.

Contributing to the development of an eight-channel stereo tape player were Carlton G. Jenkins, equipment designer; J. Robert Peltz, research and design engineer; Clayton L. Stoldt, electronics technician; and Nikolaus A. Szeverenyi, technical associate.

The tape player is now being produced by Sylvania's parts division.

Awards were presented to the four by Frank M. Thomas, chief engineer, and James O. Lawson, manager of division engineering laboratories. All six men are members of the parts division's research and engineering group in Warren.

Their inventions provide top quality performance in automatic playing of endless loop 8-track stereo tape cartridges. Unsurpassed fidelity and equalized channel balance in stereo reproduction have been attained by improvements not available in other units. The design provides for automatically locking in the tape cartridge and optimum pressure against the drive wheel.

This development adds importantly to the division's sales potential and will be offered to a number of manufacturers of stereo equipment.

A total of 15 awards were presented to the above inventors for their contributions to the development of the automatic eight-channel stereo cartridge tape player. Five awards were presented to Clayton L. Stoldt, four awards each to John R. Peltz and Nikolaus A. Szeveirenyi, and two awards to Carlton G. Jenkins. All Sylvania employees are eligible for the $100 Patent Award on their inventions when the applications are filed by Sylvania in the United States Patent Office. Eighteen such awards have been made to Warren Sylvania Parts Division employees this year. Sylvania is a subsidiary of General Telephone and Electronics Corporation.

Did you know Pennsylvania is the nation's fifth leading grape producing state? Well it is, and with this fact in mind, grape growers are exploring the possibilities of introducing the wine industry in this state.

An article in this month's Pennsylvania Business, a publication of the state chamber of commerce, states with an annual grape crop valued in excess of $6 million there is a strong possibility of bringing in a new wine business. The number of grape vines in commercial vineyards has increased approximately 20 percent in the past three years.

"The non-use of seat belts may result in more fatalities over the Fourth of July than any single factor," said Col. Frank McKetta, Pennsylvania State Police Commissioner in a pre-Fourth warning to motorists.

"State police studies of Turnpike fatalities," McKetta continued, "have convinced us 22 people died in turnpike accidents this year because they were not using seatbelts." The study covered the first 27 fatalities in 1967.

According to the commissioner while seat belts will not prevent an accident it is the most important piece of safety equipment manufactured today. "It has one fault," McKetta said, "the driver and passenger must take 15 seconds or so to fasten them. Apparently 15 seconds is too much time for most motorists to use to protect themselves and their passengers.

MONTAUK, N.Y. (AP) — William Willis goes down to the sea again today — an ancient mariner in lonely quest of adventure and youth.

The sun-bronzed sailor hopes to set sail from here on a 100-day voyage to Plymouth, England—a 14-year-old man, willing to battle 3,600 miles of open sea in an 18-foot boat.

In 1964, Willis sailed alone for 204 days across the Pacific in only cat-yawl from Peru to Australia.

Last year he went halfway from New York to England before he was lifted from his tiny craft after suffering an abdominal hernia 30 days out of port.

"I have two main objects in view when starting on this Atlantic crossing," he told friends recently. "One is to do certain Yoga exercises which I think will keep me young for another 25 years and the other is to be in England when my autobiography comes out."

NEW YORK — Stock prices closed mixed yesterday as trading dwindled to the lowest level in a month. Advances on the New York Stock Exchange led declines by 803 to 574.

Volume dropped to 7.35 million shares from 9.94 million Thursday.

Of the 15 most-active stocks 11 posted gains. Eight of these were among the 53 new highs for the year. One, Trans World Airlines, was among the 40 stocks that set new lows.

The Dow-Jones Industrial average lost 1.68 points, at 850.26, bringing the net loss for the week to 17.11 points.

The New York Times combined average of 50 industrial and railroad stocks dipped 1.43 points to 507.52.

The New York Stock Exchange composite index closed at 50.27, up 0.08 point, and Standard & Poor's 500-stock index eased 0.21 point to 90.64.

Utility averages went against the down-trend with small gains. Utility issues, however, continued to dominate the list of new lows for the year, a reflection of the high interest rate situation.

Shares of the Ampex Corporation, a West Coast electronics concern, topped the most-active list on the big board and showed the largest loss on that list. It closed at 36½ down 1½, on 183,000 shares traded. The volume included a block of 124,100 shares at 36, the day's low, and one of 10,000 shares at 36¼.

On the American Stock Exchange volume declined to 4,042,510 shares from 5,569,125 Thursday. The index rose 7 cents to $19.96. Of 907 issues traded 400 advanced, 300 declined.

On the over-the-counter market prices were mixed but the majority of shares showed fractional advances.

On the big board, Benguet Consolidated, the second most-active stock, touched a new high at 4¼ and closed at 4¾, up 1½. The Philippine mining company raised its estimate of reserves of a previously announced sulphur deposit in Negros Oriental Province.

True Patriotism

Patriotism is a universal sentiment. Regardless of the political organization of the community, mankind has seemingly throughout his history expressed a loyalty to his own people and to his own land.

The first and outstanding characteristic of patriotism is the love of the local. The patriot says, "These men, these women, these hills, fields and streams are part of me and I part of them."

The second characteristic is his ever-widening love of that beyond the local. We begin by our love of that which is near. Maturity leads us on to the love of that which is far.

Thirdly, the patriot loves that which can be. Patriotism reflects not only on the past but has an attachment to that which can be. Patriotism looks to the future.

The delicate balance of love of our own, of others, and of the past and future is the role of a true patriot.
